POSTSEASON GAME NOTES

HOT TAKES:

- Micky Arison was selected to be inducted into the 2025 Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame, becoming the 12th person with HEAT ties to be inducted, joining Billy Cunningham (1986), Jack Ramsay (1992), Bob McAdoo (2000), Pat Riley (2008), Gary Payton (2013), Alonzo Mourning (2014), Shaquille O’Neal (2016), Ray Allen (2018), Chris Bosh (2021), Tim Hardaway (2022) and Dwyane Wade (2023).
- Pat Riley has made the playoffs 43 times in his 52-year career, including six as a player, 21 as a coach and 16 as an executive.
- The HEAT enter the 2025 Playoffs with an all-time 163-132 (.553) postseason record, the third-highest winning percentage in NBA history, behind only the Lakers (.595) and Celtics (.573).

POSTSEASON: The HEAT clinched their sixth-straight postseason appearance, tying for the longest streak in team history. It marks Miami’s 26th playoff berth in franchise history and their 14th in 17 seasons under Head Coach Erik Spoelstra, the second-most in the NBA over that span (only Boston has more with 16 appearances). Additionally, the HEAT has never missed the postseason in consecutive seasons under Coach Spoelstra, the longest such active streak in the NBA, having last missed the playoffs in consecutive seasons back in 2001-02 & 2002-03.

PLAY-IN: The HEAT became the first-ever 10th seed to win both Play-In games and advance to the NBA Playoffs. It marked the third straight season Miami has competed in the NBA Play-In Tournament. The HEAT also advanced in each of the previous two instances, first in 2023 to secure the eighth seed on their way to winning the Eastern Conference championship and an appearance in the 2023 NBA Finals, becoming the first Play-In team to make an NBA Finals and just the second eighth seed ever to reach a Finals in NBA history. Miami again appeared in the 2024 Play-In, securing the eighth seed and a meeting with the Boston Celtics who went on to win the NBA title.

VS CLEVELAND: The HEAT entered the 2025 NBA Playoffs having never faced Cleveland in the postseason. The Cavaliers were the lone remaining Eastern Conference team yet to face Miami in the playoffs. The HEAT has appeared in 55 postseason matches, including every other East team and even six different Western Conference teams before facing the Cavs for the first time. Miami has faced Eastern Conference teams Boston (seven times), Chicago (seven times), New York (six times), Indiana (five times), Milwaukee (four times), Atlanta (three times), Brooklyn (three times), Charlotte (three times), Detroit (three times), Philadelphia (three times), Orlando (once), Toronto (once) and Washington (once) and Western Conference teams Dallas (twice), San Antonio (twice), Denver (once), New Orleans (once), L.A. Lakers (once) and Oklahoma City (once).

PLAYOFF DOUBLE-DOUBLES: Bam Adebayo has totaled 33 postseason double-doubles, the most in HEAT history. Of his 33 double-doubles, 22 have been with at least 20 points, marking the second-most playoff double-doubles with at least 20 points in team history. Below are the most total double-doubles and 20-point, 10-rebound double-doubles in Miami playoff history.

ERIK SPOELSTRA (Portland)Regular Season Coaching Record: 787-572, completed 17th regular seasonPostseason Coaching Record: 110-83, completed 14th postseason

Erik Spoelstra completed his 17th regular season as head coach of the HEAT and his 30th as a member of the organization. He was elevated to his current position on April 28, 2008. Spoelstra has totaled 13 postseason appearances, nine division titles, six conference championships and guided the franchise to a pair of NBA titles. Recognized as one of the game's best coaches, Spoelstra was selected as one of the NBA's 15 Greatest Coaches in NBA History and has earned Coach of the Month honors 10 times, tying the sixth-most in NBA history.

In his previous 16 seasons at the helm, Spoelstra has made his mark on the HEAT record book as the winningest coach in franchise history. Entering this season, he holds team records in wins, winning percentage and games coached. His 13 postseason appearances in his previous 16 seasons tie the second-most over that span in the NBA as Spoelstra has never missed the playoffs in consecutive seasons since becoming head coach as he also holds HEAT postseason records in wins, winning percentage, series won and games coached.

When Spoelstra first took over the head coaching duties in 2008, he was given the task of improving a young team that had been ravaged by injuries the previous season and had won just 15 games. He then recorded 43 wins in his first season, the most by a first year HEAT coach in team history, while on his way to a postseason berth. Miami became just the second team in NBA history to make the playoffs after winning 15-or-fewer games the previous season. The only other team to do so was the 1968-69 San Diego Rockets, in which HEAT President Pat Riley was a member of.

From 2010-14, Spoelstra took one of the most scrutinized teams and guided them to consecutive NBA Championships, four-straight Conference Championships and four consecutive NBA Finals appearances, becoming just the third franchise in NBA history to make four consecutive NBA Finals appearances, joining the Celtics and Lakers. It also made them just one of 10 franchises in the four major North American sports leagues to make four consecutive trips to the league championship. Individually, Spoelstra became just the fourth head coach in NBA history to lead his team to four-straight Finals appearances joining Red Auerbach, K.C. Jones and Pat Riley. Spoelstra also joined a very elite fraternity when he led the HEAT to a seven-game series win over the San Antonio Spurs in the 2013 NBA Finals. Upon capturing the 2013 NBA Championship he became one of just 13 head coaches in NBA history to have won multiple championships and only the eighth to win a championship in consecutive seasons.

The 2012 championship culminated a compressed 2011-12 season in which Miami went 46-20 and captured its second consecutive Southeast Division title. The regular season was highlighted by a nine-game win streak (Feb. 10-Mar. 1) with each victory a double-digit win. During that streak the HEAT became the first team to win road games on three consecutive nights (Feb. 12-14) since December of 1979 and the first to win each of those contests by double-digits since the 1970-71 season.

Before taking over as the sixth head coach in HEAT history, Spoelstra had served Miami in a number of roles in his first 13 years. He was originally hired as video coordinator and over the years was promoted to assistant coach/video coordinator, assistant coach/advance scout and assistant coach/director of scouting, a title he held during Miami's 2006 NBA Championship, before ascending to head coach. He made a name for himself around the league with his game preparation and superb attention to detail. In his seven seasons as the HEAT's assistant coach/director of scouting, he had the primary role of developing game plans for upcoming opponents. To that end, he coordinated the video staff and advance scouts while overseeing the development of scouting reports and videos.

In 1992, he graduated from the University of Portland with a degree in communications. While attending Portland, Spoelstra was the starting point guard for four years and was named the West Coast Conference Freshman of the Year in 1989. Upon graduating he spent two years as a player/coach for Tus Herten, a team in the professional sports league of Germany.

He has returned to his native Philippines to host clinics and promote education, health and wellness to thousands of at-risk youth through grassroots programs and events. The nine-day program in Manila in the summer of 2011 was the largest NBA FIT event ever hosted in Southeast Asia under the NBA Cares umbrella. In the summer of 2012, Coach Spoelstra expanded his reach into other Southeast Asia nations by conducting coaches clinics and other FIT activities in Singapore.

Raised in Portland, OR, Spoelstra, who was inducted into the Jesuit High School Athletic Hall of Fame in September 2009, is the first Asian/Filipino-American head coach in any of the major North American sports leagues. Spoelstra is the son of Jon Spoelstra, a long-time NBA executive who has guided the Portland Trail Blazers, Denver Nuggets, Buffalo Braves and New Jersey Nets. His grandfather, Watson, was a Detroit Tigers beat writer for many years. In his free time, Spoelstra enjoys spending time with his sons Santiago and Dante and daughter, Ruby, and their dog Rosie.
