PISTONS-KNICKS ALL-TIME PLAYOFF HISTORY:

The Detroit Pistons and New York Knicks last met in the first round of the 1992 NBA Playoffs and the Knicks ended the Pistons' six-year streak of advancing past the first round. In a 94-87 victory in Game 5, Patrick Ewing led the Knicks with 31 points and 19 rebounds, while Bernard King contributed 44 points in the decisive game. The Pistons were held to an average of 84.8 points per game in the series, an NBA record for fewest points in a five-game series at the time. The Knicks advanced to face the defending champion Chicago Bulls in the Eastern Conference semifinals. In 1990, the Detroit Pistons advanced to the Eastern Conference Finals with a commanding 4-1 series victory over the New York Knicks in the first round. The Pistons, led by Isiah Thomas and anchored by their formidable defense, dominated the series from the outset. Detroit took a 2-0 series lead with decisive home victories, including a 112-77 rout in Game 1. The Knicks managed to secure a win in Game 3 at Madison Square Garden, but the Pistons responded by winning the next two games to clinch the series. James Edwards was a standout performer for Detroit, averaging 19.4 points per game and shooting 58.8% from the field during the series. The Pistons' victory set the stage for their continued dominance in the Eastern Conference, culminating in an NBA Championship later that season. In 1984, the New York Knicks edged out the Detroit Pistons in a five-game series during the Eastern Conference First Round, clinching the matchup 3-2. The series featured highscoring affairs, with both teams averaging over 110 points per game. The Pistons, led by Isiah Thomas, showcased their offensive prowess, but the Knicks' Bernard King proved to be the difference-maker. King delivered a standout performance, scoring 44 points in the decisive Game 5, including 12 rebounds and 5 assists, despite battling flu symptoms. His efforts propelled the Knicks to a 127-123 overtime victory at Joe Louis Arena on April 27, 1984. Isiah Thomas nearly single-handedly forced a Game 6, scoring 16 points in the final 1:34 of regulation to tie the game and send it into overtime. He finished with 35 points and 12 assists. The Knicks advanced to face the Boston Celtics in the next round.

KNICKS PLAYOFF HISTORY:

The New York Knicks have now made the NBA Playoffs in four of the last five seasons, last missing the postseason in 2021-22. The Knicks are coming off a strong showing in 2023-24, where they reached the Eastern Conference Semifinals before falling to the Indiana Pacers in a seven-game series. New York also advanced to the Eastern Conference Semifinals in 2022-23, defeating the Cleveland Cavaliers before losing to the Miami Heat. Prior to that, the Knicks made a brief playoff appearance in 2020-21, falling to the Atlanta Hawks in the first round. The 2010's saw three playoff appearances — in 2010-11, 2011-12, and 2012-13. In 2013, the Knicks reached the second round after defeating the Boston Celtics, marking their deepest playoff run since 2000. The Knicks' last trip to the NBA Finals came in 1999, when they made a historic run as the No. 8 seed before falling to the San Antonio Spurs in five games. New York also reached the Finals in 1994, pushing the Houston Rockets to seven games. The franchise won its two NBA Championships in 1970 and 1973, led by legends such as Willis Reed, Walt Frazier, and Bill Bradley. The Knicks made the playoffs every season from 1988 to 2001, with multiple deep runs in the 1990's under head coach Pat Riley and later Jeff Van Gundy. New York has appeared in the playoffs 44 times in its history, compiling an all-time postseason record of 187-199.

- Detroit's 44 wins tied with 2015-16 as their most since going 59-23 in 2007-08. The Pistons became the first team in NBA history to triple their win total in an 82-game season (the Charlotte Bobcats went from seven in a 66-game 2011-12 season to 21 in 2012-13).
- The Pistons won 30 more games than last season, the 6th-largest year-over-year turnaround in NBA history. Detroit's previous franchise record was an 18-win improvement, done three times.
- The Pistons set a franchise record with 1,051 3-pointers in the regular season on 36.2% 3FG. Malik Beasley, Cade Cunningham and Tim Hardaway Jr. became the first Pistons trio to each make 140+ 3PM in a season since Lindsey Hunter, Joe Dumars and Terry Mills in 1996-97.
- Detroit led the NBA with 558 dunks (6.8 per game), the only team in the league with 500+ this season and the most since Utah had 573 in 2018-19. Jalen Duren finished 3rd with 219 slams, 61 of which were alley-oops from Cade Cunningham, the most by any duo in the NBA this season.
- Cade Cunningham became the 7th player in NBA history to average at least 25.0 PTS, 9.0 AST and 6.0 REB in a season, joining LeBron James, Nikola Jokic, Luka Doncic, Russell Westbrook, James Harden and Oscar Robertson. - TEAM NOTES -

RESTORED: The Pistons won 30 more games than last season, the 6th-largest turnaround in NBA history and the largest in franchise history [previous record was 18, accomplished three times and most recently 2000-01 (32-50) to 2001-02 (50-32)] From 2023-24 to 2024-25, Detroit boasts the largest increase in winning percentage in the NBA and tied their most wins (44 in 2015-16) since going 59-23 in 2007-08. The Pistons became the first team in NBA history to triple their win total in an 82-game season (the 2011-13 Charlotte Hornets went from seven to 21, but the 2011-12 season was shorterned to 66 games due to the lockout).

This is Detroit's first trip to the playoffs since 2018-19. Their Game 2 victory in New York was their first since May 26, 2008, snapping a playoff drought of 16 years, 10 months and 26 days and an NBA-record 15-game playoff losing streak. The last time the Pistons won a playoff series was a 4-1 victory over Orlando in the 2008 Eastern Conference Semifinals, where they were led by 23.6 PPG from Rip Hamilton and 15.6 PPG by Tayshaun Prince. Detroit's last home playoff win was in Game 5 of that series on May 13, 2008. They have lost nine straight home playoff games.

IT'S RAINING THREES: The Pistons set their franchise record in 3-pointers made, led by Malik Beasley's franchise record-breaking season. They attempted and made their most 3-pointers per game this season with their 10th-best 3PT%

Detroit was powered by Malik Beasley, who ranks at the top of franchise leaderboards in 3-pointers made to begin a season and a stint as a Piston. Beasley, Cade Cunningham and Tim Hardaway Jr. are the second trio in franchise history to each make 140+3-pointers, joining Joe Dumars, Terry Mills and Lindsay Hunter (1996-97)

The Pistons are 28-8 (.778) this season when shooting at least 36.0% from deep, the 5th-best record when doing so in the NBA.

On Feb. 23 vs Atlanta, Cade Cunningham, Malik Beasley and Tim Hardaway Jr. became the fifth trio in NBA history to each make 6+3-pointers in the same game.

The official definition of a screen assist is "the number of times an offensive player or team sets a screen for a teammate that directly leads to a made field goal by that teammate."

Jalen Duren leads Detroit and ranked near the top of the NBA in effective screens this season (see player page).

PEAK PERFORMER: Cade Cunningham has opened his playoff career on a historical pace, becoming one of eight players in NBA history to average at least 25.0 points, 8.0 rebounds and 8.0 assists through five team playoff games, along with LeBron James, Luka Doncic, Nikola Jokic, Oscar Robertson, Russell Westbrook and Wilt Chamberlain. He opened his playoff career with four consecutive 20-point double-doubles, trailing only Oscar Robertson (6 straight games) and Wilt Chamberlain (5) for the longest streaks in to start a playoff career in NBA history. He has opened his playoff career with five straight 20-point games, tied with Kelly Tripucka (1983-84) as the longest in franchise history.

He turned in double-doubles in each of his first four games with 12 assists in Game 1, the most ever by a Piston in their playoff debut. He also became the 7th player in franchise history to open up the playoffs with a 20-point double-double, joining Chauncey Billups, Rasheed Wallace, Grant Hill, John Salley, Bill Laimbeer and Isiah Thomas. In addition, he became the 10th player in franchise history with a points/ assists double-double in the playoffs and became the 3rd to open the playoffs with one, joining Chauncey Billups and Isiah Thomas.

Cade turned in a 33-point, 12-rebound double-double in Game 2 to power Detroit to their first playoff win in 16 years. It was the 7th 30-point double-double in Pistons playoff history and the first since Isiah Thomas in 1987 (Thomas, Bill Laimbeer, Curtis Rowe, Bob Lanier, Larry Foust, George Yardley). Cunningham joined Chauncey Billups and Isiah Thomas (3x) as the only players in franchise history to log both a PTS/AST and PTS/REB double-double in the same playoff series.

In Game 3, Cunningham turned in a stat line done only three times previously in NBA history: he joined Russell Westbrook, LeBron James and Rick Barry as the only players with 24 points, 11 assists, 7 rebounds, four steals and two blocks in a playoff game. It was Cunningham's third straight double-double, joining Andre Drummond, Ben Wallace (3x) and Rasheed Wallace as the only players in the past 30 seasons of franchise history with three double-doubles in a single playoff series. Those are also the only four Pistons to record three straight double-doubles in the playoffs in that span; one more for Cunningham would tie him with Andre Drummond (four straight in 2019) for the most consecutive double-doubles in a playoff series by a Piston.

In Game 4, Cunningham recorded the third triple-double in Pistons playoff history with 25 points, 10 rebounds, 10 assists and four blocks, joining Ralph Sampson (May 6, 1968) as the only players to record such minimums in an NBA playoff game. Isiah Thomas owns the other two triple doubles on May 15, 1989 vs MIL and April 25, 1986 vs ATL.

Cunningham went 11-of-12 from the free throw line in Game 5 with 24 points, eight rebounds, eight assists, two steals and one block, joining Isiah Thomas, Chauncey Billups and Jerry Stackhouse as the only 24-8-8 games in Pistons playoff history.

Knicks guard Jalen Brunson is shooting just 18.8% (3-of-16) when guarded by Cade Cunningham. Cade's primary matchup, OG Anunoby, is shooting 45.7% (16-35) with four turnovers and two blocks for 8.6 PPG.

CAPTAIN CLUTCH: After New York went on a quick 4-0 run to tie Game 2 at 94-94 with 1:15 remaining, Schroder marched down the court and nailed a 3-pointer to put Detroit up for good to snap their NBA-record 15-game playoff losing streak. The shot was Schroder's first career go-ahead bucket in the final minute of a playoff game. He was previously 0-for-2 in such attempts, with potential game-winning shots in the paint blocked by LeBron James (May 8, 2016 - ATL 99, CLE 100) and John Wall (May 13, 2015 - ATL 80, WAS 81).

THE MENACE: Through three games in the series, Schroder has logged the second-most minutes and possessions guarding Knicks guard Jalen Brunson. Brunson is shooting 43.8 (14-of-32) against Schroder with two turnovers and a 2-for-6 (33.3%) mark from deep. Brunson is shooting 40.9% (9-of-22) when guarded by Ausar Thompson, his next-most guarded defender, 50.0% (8-of-16) when guarded by Tim Hardway Jr., 77.0% (7-of-10) against Malik Beasley, and just 18.8% (3-of-16) against Cade Cunningham

2024-25 HIGHS

MR. BENCH: Schroder has scored 66 points (13.2 PPG) on 52.9% (9-17) 3PT so far on this series, all off the bench. He joins Vinnie Johnson (14.3 PPG on 50.0% [9-18] 3PT across 10 games in 1989) as the only Pistons reserve with at least 13.0 PPG on 50.0% 3PT though five playoff games.

REGULAR SEASON RECORD WITH PISTONS (1ST SEASON): 44-38 (.537)

J.B. Bickerstaff was named head coach of the Detroit Pistons on July 3, 2024.

"I am pleased to have J.B. joining our franchise and commend our front office team on leading an extensive search," said Pistons owner Tom Gores. "This is a pivotal time, and we need a leader who can immediately instill a culture of growth, development and inspiration. After spending time with J.B., it's clear he is a passionate teacher with a competitive spirit who knows what it takes to win in today's NBA."

Prior to joining the Pistons, Bickerstaff was the head coach of the Cleveland Cavaliers from 2020-2024. Last season under Bickerstaff, the Cavaliers' defense ranked seventh in both points allowed (110.2) and defensive rating (112.1) during the regular season. During the 2022-23 season, Bickerstaff led the Cavaliers to the franchise's first 51-plus win season since 2016-17 and featured a defense that ranked first in the NBA in points allowed (106.9) and defensive rating (109.9), while being one of only three NBA teams to finish Top-10 in both offensive and defensive rating (Boston and Philadelphia). Before being promoted to head coach in Cleveland in February 2020, Bickerstaff was named associate head coach for the Cavaliers under John Beilein prior to the 2019-20 season.

Before his time in Cleveland, Bickerstaff served as the associate head coach for the Memphis Grizzlies under David Fizdale during the 2016-17 season. He took over as head coach for the Grizzlies from 2017 to 2019. Bickerstaff was tasked with transitioning the Grizzlies from the "Grit-and-Grind" era led by veterans Marc Gasol and Mike Conley to a new era led by Jaren Jackson Jr. In Bickerstaff's first full season as head coach (2018-19), the Grizzlies' defense improved year-over-year from 26th to ninth in defensive rating and from 13th to third in points per game.

Bickerstaff spent five seasons with the Houston Rockets as assistant coach from 2011 to 2015. He was named interim head coach of the Rockets during the 2015-16 season. Bickerstaff took over for Kevin McHale after 11 games of the 2015-16 season and finished the season 37-34 while qualifying for the NBA Playoffs. In four seasons with Bickerstaff as an assistant coach (2011-15), the Rockets amassed a 189-123 (.606) record while making three playoff appearances and one Western Conference Finals appearance.

Bickerstaff also spent four seasons (2007-11) as an assistant with the Minnesota Timberwolves under Randy Whitman (2007-09) and Kurt Rambis (2009-11). He began his coaching career with the Charlotte Bobcats (2004-07) as an assistant coach alongside his father, Bernie Bickerstaff, becoming the youngest assistant coach in the NBA at the age of 24.

Bickerstaff served as director of operations for the University of Minnesota's men's basketball program, overseeing all administrative areas of the program and assisting the coaching staff with recruiting, scouting and coaching. He played two collegiate seasons (1999-2001) with the Golden Gophers and two years at Oregon State University, where he was the youngest Division I player as a 17-year-old freshman.

A native of Denver, CO, Bickerstaff and his wife Nikki have three children: Blair, Blakely and Blade.
