Charlotte - The Charlotte Hornets fell to the Houston Rockets, 114-101, on Monday night at Spectrum Center.

The Rockets ripped off a 19-5 run late in the first to take a 31-15 lead after one. Fred VanVleet scored 15 points in the opening frame and Alperen Sengun added 11 for Houston.

The Rockets outpaced Charlotte again in the second, putting up 31 points for the second straight quarter to take a 62-31 lead into the locker room. Houston outrebounded Charlotte, 35-23, in the first half.

LaMelo Ball tallied 13 points and five assists in the third, but the Hornets went into the fourth trailing 92-66.

The Hornets continued eating into Houston's lead as time wound down, but the deficit was too great as Houston cruised to a comfortable win.

THE BUZZ: HORNETS TEAM NOTES

Charles Lee, Coach of the Month

- Hornets Head Coach Charles Lee was named NBA Eastern Conference Coach of the Month for January.
- The Hornets compiled an 11-6 record in January, tied for the most wins in the NBA and the most in the East.
- Charlotte was the only team in the NBA to rank in the top 5 in offensive (121.1, 1st) and defensive rating (109.6, 5th) in January and led the league in net rating (11.5) and rebounding percentage (55.6%).
- The Hornets finished January on a six-game winning streak, the team's longest since the 2015-16 season.
- Charlotte recorded a +151 point differential on the road last month, tied for the best road point differential in a single month in NBA history (Miami Heat, Dec., 2010-11).
- Lee became the fourth coach in franchise history to earn the award (Larry Brown, Steve Clifford, Paul Silas) and the first since Clifford won it in 2015-16.

Third-Straight Eastern Conference Rookie of the Month

- Kon Knueppel was named Eastern Conference Rookie of the Month for games played in January, his third-straight month earning the award. He and Mavericks forward Cooper Flagg have swept all three Rookie of the Month awards so far this season.
- He is the sixth Hornet all-time to win the award three times (Larry Johnson, Emeka Okafor, Raymond Felton, LaMelo Ball, Brandon Miller).
- Knueppel averaged 17.8 points, 5.9 rebounds and 3.6 assists per game on 49.3/41.7/88.7 shooting splits in 17 games during the month of January.
- He led all rookies in total points (302), field goals made (105), 3-pointers made (45) and free throws made (47) while ranking 4th in rebounds (101) and assists (62) among rookies in January.
- Knueppel was the only rookie to total at least 175 PTS and 100 REB in January and was only the second rookie to score 300+ PTS in a calendar month this season (Flagg).

Going for Eight-Straight

- Charlotte rolls into this matchup with Houston on a seven-game winning streak.
- The Hornets haven't won at least eight-straight since April of the 1998-99 season, a nine-game winning streak.
- After a 1-10 start on the road this season, the Hornets have since rebounded with an 11-5 record away from Spectrum Center and have won four-straight road games.
- Charlotte has now claimed victory in four-straight home games as well as four-in-a-row on the road; both are the longest home and road winning streaks of the season, respectively.

It's B-Miller Time

- Posted 10-straight 20-point games, his longest 20-point game streak this season. Miller's streak ended in the win over New Orleans (Feb. 2).
- Miller's 10-straight 20-point games is the second-longest 20-point game streak of his career.
- His longest 20-point game streak is 12 games, spanning from Nov. 19, 2024, to Dec. 13, 2024.
- In that streak, Miller shot 51.2 FG% / 43.8 3P% / 97.9 FT% splits. He averaged 24.7 PPG, 5.2 RPG and 3.3 APG in those 10 games.
- One of five players this season to average 20 PPG and 5 RPG on 50/40/90 shooting splits over a 10-game span (1/15/26-1/31/26).
- Miller has impacted winning not only by scoring but also with his defensive playmaking.
- On the year, Miller is averaging 1.0 steals and 0.9 blocks per game. He ranks in the top 15 among wings in block percentage (1.4 BLK%) and is one of 11 players this season with multiple games of 5+ 3PM and 2+ blocks.

The Hornets Are Buzzing

- In the last 15 games, Charlotte has a 10-5 record and the #2 net rating in the NBA (10.9); Charlotte's offense ranks #1 in the NBA (120.0 ORTC) and its defense ranks #5 (109.1 DRTC) in that span.
- The Hornets also rank #1 in rebounding percentage (56.1%) and #3 in second-chance points (18.3) per game in the last 15 contests. Charlotte's ability to turn extra possessions generated by offensive rebounds into points, along with limiting those opportunities for opponents, has given the Hornets a massive boost on the margins.
- More numbers from the last 15 games; the Hornets rank #2 in OREB% (37.0%), #5 in 3PM per game (15.3) and #5 in true shooting percentage (59.4 TS%).
- In a larger 15-10 stretch that started on Dec. 14 with an overtime victory in Cleveland, the Hornets boast the #2 offense (119.8 ORTC), #8 defense (112.1 DRTC) and are #4 in the league in net rating (7.7). Only four teams (BOS, DET, LAC, PHX) have totaled more wins than Charlotte (16) since Dec. 14.
- Since beating Cleveland on the road over a month ago, Charlotte ranks 2nd in the league in 3-point percentage (39.2%) and 3-pointers made (16.5). The team's offensive approach and shot distribution have excelled across a large sample size and the players on the floor have capitalized on their opportunities with efficient shotmaking.

Charlotte Chemistry

- Charlotte's lineup of LaMelo Ball, Brandon Miller, Kon Knueppel, Miles Bridges and Moussa Diabate has the highest point differential (+36.0) of any five-man lineup combination in the NBA per Cleaning The Glass (min. 150 poss.). The Hornets are 13-1 when Ball-Miller-Knueppel-Bridges-Diabate comprise the starting lineup this season.
- Add Ryan Kalkbrenner into the mix at center; a four-man group of Ball-Miller-Knueppel-Bridges plus either Diabate or Kalkbrenner; and the Hornets are 18-4.
- It's not only the players at the top of the rotation making an impact, either.
- Grant Williams and Josh Green lead the team in on/off point differential and rank #5 and #19 in the league, respectively, per Cleaning The Glass.
- Moussa Diabate has climbed to #17 in the NBA in on/off point differential at +13.0.
- The Hornets are +18.0 points better than their opponent with Williams on the floor and +12.9 points better with Green on the floor. Competitiveness, activity, basketball IQ and floor-spacing provided by three of Charlotte's veterans has stabilized the lineup as both have returned from injury in the past month.

Control the Controllables

- The Hornets allow a league-low 20.3 FTA per game for opponents, balancing out their opponents' efficiency at the line (80.1 opp. FT%, fourth-highest in NBA) and displaying the disciplined yet physical defense Charles Lee expects from his roster.
- Charlotte has dominated on the glass this season, ranking at or near the top of nearly every rebounding statistic. The Hornets allow the third-fewest offensive rebounds per game for opponents (10.3) and second-fewest total opponent rebounds (39.6) while ranking in the top 5 in offensive rebounding percentage (34.9%) and 2nd in total rebounding percentage (53.7%) themselves.
- Taking away chances at extra points (free throws) and extra possessions (offensive rebounds) for the opponent--and creating them for themselves on the offensive end with high activity on the glass and physicality in the paint--stand out as reliable traits for this Charlotte team.

THE BUZZ: HORNETS TEAM NOTES

The January Hornets

- Charlotte was arguably the best team in the NBA during the month of January. Its 11 wins were tied for the most in the NBA and the Hornets led the league in offensive rating (121.1), net rating (11.5), rebounding percentage (55.6%) and second-chance points per game (18.3).
- The Hornets also ranked in the top 5 league-wide in offensive rebounding percentage (36.1%), 3-pointers made per game (15.8), 3-point percentage (38.9%) and defensive rating (109.6).
- Charlotte was the only team in the top 5 in both offensive and defensive rating in January.
- The Hornets held their opponents under 100 points in nine of 17 games played last month after doing so just once from October-December.
- On Jan. 1, the Hornets were 11-22 with a -3.0 net rating, good for 21st in the league. Charlotte ranked 12th in offense and 26th in defense through the end of 2025.
- Just one month and three days later, the Hornets are 23-28 on the season and rank 12th in net rating, 6th in offense and 18th in defense on the season.
- The month of January saw Charlotte double its season-long win total and rocket up the league leaderboards in numerous categories.
- After a 4-14 start, the Hornets have since posted a 19-14 record.

Hornets at the Halfway Point

- The Jan. 15 contest at Los Angeles was game #41 of the 2025-26 season, marking the exact halfway point for the Hornets.
- Through half of the season, Charlotte ranked #9 in offense (116.7 ORTG), #22 in defense (166.6 DRTG) and #16 in net rating (0.1) league-wide.
- Charlotte is one of the best rebounding teams in the NBA, ranking #4 in offensive rebounding (34.5 OREB%) and #2 in defensive rebounding (72.1 DREB%) and total rebounding (53.1% REB).
- Offensively, the Hornets hang their hat on efficient, high-volume 3-point shooting. Charlotte ranked 5th in 3-point attempts per game (41.2) and 3-point percentage (37.3%) and made the third-most 3-pointers per game (15.4) in the first half of the 2025-26 season.
- Defensively, the Hornets' strength on the defensive glass limits the number of extra possessions for opponents generated via offensive rebounds. Charlotte allowed the third-fewest offensive rebounds per game for opponents (10.5) and second-fewest total opponent rebounds (40.0) through 41 games.

Hornets Hit All the Right Notes in a 55-point Win Over the Jazz

- Charlotte broke multiple records for margin of victory in a rousing 55-point win over Utah, a wire-to-wire win in which the Hornets led by as many as 57 points--their largest lead in any game this season.
- 55 points is the largest margin of victory in the NBA this season and Charlotte's largest margin of victory on the road in team history (fifth-largest in NBA history), breaking the franchise's previous road victory record by 12 points.
- It was the second-largest margin of victory in franchise history behind a 61-point home win over Memphis (140-79) in March of 2018.
- 150 points, 53 field goals made, 65 rebounds, 100% free throw shooting, 41 second chance points, 21 fast break points and 78 bench points were all season-highs for team totals in a single game. 24 made 3s tied a season-high and nine players scoring in double figures tied a franchise record set on opening night versus Brooklyn (Oct. 22).

Hornets Hold the Cavaliers Scoreless in Overtime

- Charlotte held Cleveland scoreless in overtime on Dec. 14, the 12th instance in the shot clock era (since 1954-55) in which a team was held scoreless in overtime.
- The Hornets holding the Cavaliers to zero points in overtime was just the fourth time a team had been held scoreless in an overtime period in the last 20 years and the first time since Chicago was held scoreless in overtime by Minnesota on Nov. 7, 2015.
- Brandon Miller's game-tying 3-pointer was just the eighth instance since 1996-97 in which the Hornets won the game after trailing with less than five seconds remaining in regulation and the first since Devonte' Graham made a go-ahead 3-pointer at New York on Nov. 16, 2019.

Lockdown Defense in Toronto

- Charlotte held Toronto to 86 points on Dec. 5, a season-low for points allowed.
- The Hornets have held their opponent to 86 points or fewer just three times since the 2020-21 season.
- In 2019-20, the Hornets held their opponent under 86 points twice, including an 83-73 win over Chicago that represented season-lows in scoring for both teams.
- Charlotte has held its opponent to 86 points or fewer 21 times in the last 10 seasons. The most recent example prior to Dec. 5 was Nov. 8, 2024, a 103-83 win over Indiana.

Scintillating Second Half in D.C.

- Charlotte set a franchise record with 88 points in the second half versus Washington. 88 points are the most the Hornets have scored in any half in team history (87 in 2H vs. IND, Jan. 26, 2022).
- The Hornets shot 67.4% from the field (29-43), 75% from distance (12-16) and 85.7% from the line (18-21) and outrebounded the Wizards 24-11 in the final 24 minutes.
- Charlotte posted consecutive 44-point quarters to close out a 26-point victory versus Washington, to which they trailed by 13 points in the first half.

CLEANING THE GLASS STATISTIC DEFINITIONS AND APPLICATIONS:

Effective FG%: A field goal percentage statistic that measures efficiency by giving extra weight to 3-point shots. The statistic adjusts traditional FG% to account for the fact that 3-point field goals count for three points, while all other field goals only count for two points. Can be used to demonstrate efficiency among players with a high concentration of either 2-point shots or 3-point shots.

Halfcourt/Transition points per play: A per-possession statistic that measures the number of points scored per 100 plays in either a halfcourt offensive setting or a transition offensive setting. A "play" is anything that results in a shot, turnover, or free throws. Can be used to highlight the differences in offensive efficiency on fast breaks or in the half court.

On/Off point differential: A statistic that measures the amount of points a team scores per 100 possessions subtracted by the amount of points a team allows per 100 possessions with a specific player on the court. Can be used to demonstrate how many points a team gains or adds when a specific player is in the game.

"Garbage Time": Cleaning The Glass statistics filter out statistics accumulated during the late stages of a blowout NBA game; commonly known as "garbage time." Cleaning The Glass defines "garbage time" in exact terms as follows: the game has to be in the 4th quarter, the score differential has to be greater than or equal to (>=) 25 for minutes 12-9, >= 20 for minutes 9-6, and >= 10 for the remainder of the quarter. Additionally, there have to be two or fewer starters on the floor combined between the two teams.

Importantly, the game can never go back to being non-garbage time, or this clock resets. For example, if it's a 30 point game to start the 4th quarter, but one team comes back and pulls the game within 8, that comeback is not counted as garbage time. If the leading team regains control and expands the lead back out, garbage time would start when the score went back above 10.

HORNETS HEAD COACH CHARLES LEE

Coaching Record in 2024-25: 19-63

Overall NBA Coaching Record: 42-91 (.316) (Second season)

- In his first season as Hornets Head Coach, Lee oversaw the development of multiple contributors and helped establish a team identity rooted in physicality, discipline and intentionality. Most notably, Hornets forward-center Moussa Diabate was converted from a Two-Way contract to a standard NBA deal in Feb. 2025, and has remained a crucial member of the rotation since Lee began occasionally deploying him as the Hornets starting center last season.
- Hired as the 12th head coach in Charlotte Hornets history on May 9, 2024, Charles Lee holds 10 years of NBA assistant coaching experience and enters his second season as Hornets Head Coach.
- Lee most recently served as the Boston Celtics' top assistant in their 2023-24 NBA championship run. Under Lee's guidance, the Celtics finished the year with the NBA's top record (64-18), offensive rating (123.2) and net rating (11.6). Boston's 64 wins represented the fourth-most in franchise history.
- Prior to his time in Boston, Lee served five seasons as an assistant for the Milwaukee Bucks, ascending to associate head coach and helping guide the team to the 2020-21 NBA championship. During this time, the Bucks averaged 54.2 wins despite two COVID-shortened regular seasons. Milwaukee won 60 games in 2018-19, tied for the third-most in a season in franchise history.
- He began his NBA career as an assistant with the Atlanta Hawks from 2014-18, helping engineer a defense that finished in the top six in defensive rating three straight years. In Lee's first year with the team, Atlanta won a franchise-record 60 games and reached the Eastern Conference Finals.
- Throughout Lee's 10 NBA seasons as an assistant, his teams accumulated a 510-291 (.637) regular-season record, reached the playoffs nine times, captured seven division titles, earned five Eastern Conference No. 1 seeds and won two NBA championships. In four of his last six seasons, his teams finished the regular season with the best record in the NBA.
- Lee got his start in coaching at his alma mater, Bucknell University, where he was an assistant for two seasons (2012-14).
- Lee played four seasons with the Bison, leading the team to two Patriot League titles and the only two NCAA Tournament victories in school history, including a win over No. 3 Kansas as a No. 14 seed in 2005. A 2017 inductee into the Bucknell Athletics Hall of Fame, Lee was the 2005-06 Patriot League Player of the Year, a three-time All-Patriot League selection and the first player in conference history to win back-to-back Patriot League Tournament MVP awards. He logged four professional seasons overseas with stops in Israel, Belgium and Germany.
