Game Recap

Victor Wembanyama delivered another masterpiece with 39 points, 15 rebounds and more game-wrecking defense for the San Antonio Spurs, who took a 2-1 lead in the second-round NBA playoff series with a 115-108 victory over the Minnesota Timberwolves on Friday night. Wembanyama went 13 of 18 from the floor and 10 of 12 from the line, adding five blocks and a full night of point deterrence as the Spurs won their second straight game after dropping the opener at home. "It was like holding the ship together. We had a lead. We didn't need to rush. We needed to be consistent," Wembanyama said. De'Aaron Fox scored 17 points, and Stephon Castle had 13 points and 12 assists with a team-high plus-17 rating. Anthony Edwards had 32 points and 14 rebounds and Naz Reid added 18 points and nine rebounds for the Wolves, whose defense kept them alive after a woeful start but allowed the Spurs to shoot 6 for 10 from 3-point range in the pivotal third quarter. Minnesota will host Game 4 on Sunday night. The series shifts back to San Antonio for Game 5 on Tuesday. Jaden McDaniels drew Wembanyama's fifth foul with 6:18 left and brought the Wolves within 99-98 on pair of free throws, but the Spurs never trailed in the second half despite never leading by double digits. Wembanyama sat for about a minute before coach Mitch Johnson sent him back in. "We were going to not leave any bullets in the chamber in terms of keeping him on the bench," Johnson said. "We were going to play him, and then if he fouled out, we deal with that." Wembanyama didn't flinch despite the foul risk, finishing with 16 points in the fourth quarter. His 3-pointer that answered Reid's pushed San Antonio's lead to six with 3:06 to go. Reid tried another one near the end of the shot clock on the next possession that hit the rim and Wembanyama snagged for another rebound. Edwards, who showed Minnesota yet again his swift healing ability by returning from a deep bone bruise in his hyperextended left knee after just one week to make the start of the series, had 22 points in the first half to help them snap back from an early 18-3 deficit. "He needed that. We needed that," coach Chris Finch said. "He's battling back to find a game like this, and it couldn't have come at a better time. Unfortunately, we couldn't get the result that went along with it." The Wolves missed their first 12 shots and didn't get a basket to go down until Rudy Gobert's putback with 6:52 had elapsed, but unlike in the 133-95 drubbing they took in Game 2 on Wednesday they had the defensive intelligence and tenacity at the ready to make up for the long shooting lulls. Edwards hit a buzzer-beating 31-footer at the end of the first quarter, and McDaniels swished a 3-pointer from the wing to end the first half with a 51-all tie. McDaniels and Julius Randle were the most affected by Wembanyama's presence, unable to get their short-range and rim-attacking game going. They shot a combined 8 for 34 from the floor. "I went in the locker room and told the guys we had a bunch of great looks," Edwards said. "If we make our shots, we win this game."

Game Recap

Victor Wembanyama had 19 points and 15 rebounds, and the San Antonio Spurs handed Minnesota its worst postseason loss in franchise history, beating the Timberwolves 133-95 on Wednesday night to even their Western Conference semifinal series at one game apiece. "I just told them we got punked," Minnesota coach Chris Finch said. Stephon Castle had 21 points and De'Aaron Fox added 16 points for San Antonio, which shot 50% from the field and 41% on 3-pointers. It was the highest-scoring playoff game for the Spurs since a series-clinching 145-105 win over Denver on May 4, 1983. Anthony Edwards, Julius Randle, Jaden McDaniels and Terrence Shannon Jr. each scored 12 points for Minnesota. Edwards came off the bench again as Minnesota continued to restrict his minutes in his second game back from a hyperextended left knee. Games 3 and 4 are Friday and Sunday in Minneapolis. With Wembanyama playing more aggressively on offense from the outset, the Spurs put the series-opening loss behind them quickly. Minnesota's previous largest postseason defeat was by 30 points to the Los Angeles Lakers on April 29, 2003. Only the margin of victory was in doubt Monday as both teams sent their starters to the bench with 10 minutes remaining and the Spurs leading 104-66. "I told the guys after the first game it's the natural tendency for the team that steals the first game, the away team, to get blown out in Game 2," Edwards said. "We can't come out cool and we came out cool and what happened - we got blown out." After combining to score 21 points on 10-for-31 shooting in Game 1, Wembanyama and Fox combined to go 12 of 25 from the field Wednesday. The All-Star duo scored the Spurs' first 11 points as they raced to a 29-point lead in the first half. "Just trying to set the tone," Wembanyama said. Fox finished 2 for 2 on 3-pointers after missing on four attempts in Game 1. "We're at our best when (Fox is) in attack mode," San Antonio coach Mitch Johnson said. "He has probably the strongest ripple effect on our team in terms of when he's in attack mode pushing the pace, because you have Steph (Castle) and Dylan (Harper) that follow suit with that. And then our shooters get shot in transition. Victor plays in space and so on and so forth." The Spurs missed their first three shots, but Wembanyama followed the third attempt by flying through the lane and throwing down a right-handed dunk to open the scoring. Minnesota was held to 35 points in the first half. The Timberwolves shot 29.8% from the field before halftime and were 2 for 15 on 3-pointers as they fell behind by 25 points. "I loved how everyone had everybody's back (defensively)," Wembanyama said. "Tonight looked like a system that worked."

Game Recap

Anthony Edwards scored 18 points in his unexpected return from injury and the Minnesota Timberwolves overcame a huge game by Victor Wembanyama and held on to beat the San Antonio Spurs 104-102 in the opener of the Western Conference semifinals on Monday night. Edwards was expected to miss at least the first two games of the series after suffering a bone bruise and hyperextending his left knee on April 25 during Game 4 of Minnesota's opening-round series against Denver. But he had 11 points in the fourth quarter as Minnesota held on to hand San Antonio only its second loss in its last 17 series openers at home. "Nobody expected him to play," Timberwolves veteran Mike Conley said. "It was just his level of commitment to the game. Not just to the game, but to his teammates. It showed a lot." Wembanyama had 11 points and 15 rebounds and set an NBA postseason record with 12 blocks. He's the third player to get a triple-double in the playoffs including blocks since the league began tracking blocks in 1973-74. San Antonio cut the deficit to 104-102 on a steal by Devin Vassell and layup by Dylan Harper with 31 seconds remaining. Following a miss by Minnesota's Julius Randle, Julian Champagnie couldn't connect on a 3-pointer at the buzzer. "We have to be better," Wembanyama said. "It shows up on the stat sheet. We need to figure out before 48 hours what we can do better and I've got no doubt that we will. I trust us." Randle finished with 21 points and 10 rebounds for the Timberwolves. Harper scored 18 points and Champagnie and Stephon Castle had 17 each for the Spurs. Edwards worked diligently to return for Minnesota with guards Donte DiVincenzo (torn right Achilles tendon) and Ayo Dosunmu (right calf soreness) out with injuries. "I know for a fact, just me being out there, it calms everybody down," Edwards said. "Not saying there's any pressure on any of my teammates, but it takes pressure off of everybody just knowing that I'm out there, I'm available to play, yeah. And just doing what I do best, just trying to put the ball in the hoop." After draining a stepback 3-pointer early in the game, Edwards looked toward the Spurs bench and screamed: "I'm back! I'm back!" He definitely was. Edwards did not start, entering the game with 6:53 remaining in the first quarter and the Timberwolves trailing 11-8. He finished 8 for 13 in 25 minutes. Game 2 is Wednesday in San Antonio. Wembanyama had seven blocks in the first half. The NBA Defensive Player of the Year opened the game by blocking a pair of driving layups from Terrence Shannon Jr. on consecutive possessions. Two minutes later, he blocked Gobert's driving layup just under the rim. Wembanyama finished 5 for 17 from the field.

Game Recap

Jaden McDaniels had 32 points and 10 rebounds and Terrence Shannon Jr. scored 24 points in a surprise start for the injury-ravaged Minnesota Timberwolves in a 110-98 victory over the Denver Nuggets in Game 6 on Thursday night that finished off another tense NBA playoff series between the rivals. With their top three guards missing because of injuries, the Timberwolves went big with Rudy Gobert, Julius Randle and Naz Reid fueling a 64-40 advantage in points in the paint and an 50-33 edge in rebounding. "This is what you don't really teach. This is about will. It's about heart, and that's how we were able to overcome this great challenge," said Gobert, who had 10 points, 13 rebounds and eight assists. Minnesota, the No. 6 seed in the Western Conference, will start the second round at San Antonio on Monday. The second-seeded Spurs beat Portland in five games in their first-round series. Nikola Jokic had 28 points, 10 assists and nine rebounds to lead the Nuggets, but sidekick Jamal Murray struggled to get free from McDaniels and finished with just 12 points on 4-for-17 shooting. Cameron Johnson scored 27 points to lead Denver's 10-for-27 night from deep, but Jokic and the 3-pointers simply weren't enough to keep up with a fiercely motivated Timberwolves team. "I'm just happy it's over, happy we were able to come out on top," McDaniels said. "Stuff was said. I'm just happy we were all able to prove our point, get the win, and move on to the next round." With Ayo Dosunmu joining Anthony Edwards and Donte DiVincenzo on the inactive list, the Timberwolves were missing a big chunk of their ability to create shots. Winning this game was going to require extra doses of defense and energy, and they brought both. Shannon added an element of pure speed that the Nuggets couldn't stop when he found space toward the basket. McDaniels, embracing the villain role, was a monster on both ends of the floor. The Timberwolves fed off the roaring crowd at every turn and consistently made up for their missing offense with hustle and desire. Shannon's three-point play with 1:43 left gave the Timberwolves a six-point lead, and McDaniels followed with the dagger shot - his signature mid-range pull-up was a swish from 19 feet to make it a seven-point game with 1:06 to play. Then he intercepted a hurried pass by Jokic to get the ball back and start a parade to the line. Since beating the Timberwolves in five games in the first round and cruising to the NBA championship in the 2023, the Nuggets haven't found the production or spark they've needed to supplement the three-time MVP Jokic. They extended the series with a decisive win in Game 5 on Monday, but Minnesota's defense delivered again this postseason in neutralizing Jokic and rendering Murray an afterthought. McDaniels tirelessly chased him around the perimeter. The four-time NBA Defensive Player of the Year award winner Gobert kept giving Jokic a hard time in the paint with his long arms and superb anticipation. McDaniels tossed even more spice into this well-developed rivalry early in the series with his blanket "bad defenders" job at the Nuggets, and none of the Timberwolves have made any secret of distaste for their opponent. Then their motivation soared off the charts when DiVincenzo went down in the opening minute of Game 4, and their franchise player Edwards followed him on the injured list. During a stoppage in the fourth quarter, DiVincenzo was shown with a big smile as he sat with his foot propped up in a cast behind the bench.

Game Recap

Nikola Jokic snapped out of his prolonged funk with a triple-double, Spencer Jones provided a key spark and the Denver Nuggets staved off elimination with a chippy 125-113 win over the injury-riddled Minnesota Timberwolves in Game 5 of their playoff series Monday night. Jokic had 27 points, 16 assists and 12 rebounds for Denver, which trimmed its deficit to 3-2 in the best-of-seven series. Jamal Murray scored 24 points and Jones added 20. Jokic posted his 23rd playoff triple-double, third on the career list, as the Nuggets stopped a three-game skid and played the way they did most of the regular season in securing the No. 3 seed in the Western Conference. Game 6 is Thursday night in Minneapolis. The Timberwolves, who trailed by 27 before cutting the margin to 10 in the fourth quarter, were without their starting backcourt of Anthony Edwards (hyperextended left knee) and Donte DiVincenzo (ruptured right Achilles), both of whom got hurt in Game 4, and they briefly lost center Naz Reid to a rolled right ankle late in the third quarter Monday night. DiVincenzo underwent surgery Sunday, and Edwards is out indefinitely - but an MRI confirmed the absence of structural damage, meaning he could return to action if the Timberwolves advance. Julius Randle led Minnesota with 27 points and Game 4 star Ayo Dosunmu added 18. Rudy Gobert, whose defense was the story of this series through four games, was finally neutralized and scored his only bucket with 20 seconds remaining in the third quarter with the Wolves trailing by 25. Reid went down after Tim Hardaway Jr. crashed into him and stepped on his right foot. Reid was out for several minutes and didn't appear to be moving well when he returned to the game. The Nuggets need to win the next two games to become just the 14th of 299 teams facing a 3-1 deficit to come back to win an NBA playoff series. Denver was the last team to accomplish the feat, doing it twice in the bubble in 2020, against the Jazz and Lakers. The Nuggets jumped out to an early lead as the Wolves committed 14 first-half turnovers, including nine in the first quarter. Jokic swished a 29-foot 3-pointer at the buzzer to give Denver a 60-51 halftime lead. Jones, who scored 11 points in the first four games of the series, had 11 in a six-minute stretch in the fourth quarter when the Nuggets pulled away. He sank a trio of 3-pointers and added a breakaway dunk that prompted a Minnesota timeout. Jaden McDaniels, whose meaningless layup in the final seconds of Game 4 drew the wrath of Jokic and led to a dustup that resulted in ejections and fines and only added more fuel to an already-heated playoff rivalry, picked up two quick fouls and took a seat at the 9:44 mark of the first quarter. He scored 13. The Nuggets weren't at full strength themselves as forwards Aaron Gordon (calf) and Peyton Watson (hamstring) sat out Game 5.

Game Recap

When the Minnesota Timberwolves acquired Ayo Dosunmu from Chicago in February, they expected to get a strong defender and savvy offensive player. If he wants to be an elite scorer, they'll take that, too. Dosunmu scored a career-high 43 points, stepping up after leg injuries to Anthony Edwards and Donte DiVincenzo with the highest-scoring playoff performance by a reserve in 50 years, and the Minnesota Timberwolves beat the Denver Nuggets 112-96 on Saturday night to take a 3-1 series lead. "Ayo was just out of this world, man," Timberwolves coach Chris Finch said. "Just play after play after play." Dosunmu made 13 of 17 shots, going 5 of 5 from 3-point range, and all 12 of his free throws in a season-high 42 minutes. "He goes places quick. He's an unbelievable finisher. He makes big shots," Finch said. "He's not afraid. Just was going to ride him until he collapsed, really." It was the best performance by a sub since Fred Brown scored 45 off the bench for Seattle in a 116-111 loss to Phoenix on April 15, 1976. "I know it sounds cliché, but I can't and won't take this moment for granted," Dosunmu said, "because I understand how long and how hard it is to get here." The game ended with the ejections of Denver's Nikola Jokic and Minnesota's Julius Randle after Jokic became angry when Jaden McDaniels made a meaningless layup with 2.1 seconds remaining and confronted the Wolves' swingman near his bench. Jamal Murray led Denver with 30 points. Jokic added 24 points, 15 rebounds and nine assists. The Nuggets were just 6 for 27 from 3-point range. The Wolves have won the last three games and can end the series in Game 5 on Monday night in Denver. "I expect us to have a great effort in Game 5," Nuggets coach David Adelman said. "I really trust our two best players will find a rhythm, and they have to find that at home." Jokic and Murray were 6 of 24 from the field in the second half. "We had the opportunity to score easier, get open looks, and we didn't," Jokic said. "And in the fourth quarter the momentum is on their side. They were making shots, they were playing with some energy and we didn't have that." The Nuggets led by seven in the third quarter before the Timberwolves used a disruptive defense to get back into the game. Bones Hyland and Dosunmu scored breakaway layups on consecutive possessions after Minnesota forced the Nuggets to turn it over near halfcourt - two of nine second-half turnovers for the Nuggets. Randle added a steal and fast-break dunk to put the Wolves up by four after three quarters. Dosunmu had another steal and layup as part of a 9-0 run early in the fourth quarter that gave Minnesota a 95-82 lead. The basket that pushed the lead into double digits was a 3-pointer by 38-year-old Mike Conley, who played 20 minutes while filling in for DiVincenzo and Edwards.

Game Recap

Jaden McDaniels and the Minnesota Timberwolves flexed even more of their defensive muscle against the flagging Denver Nuggets, seizing a 2-1 lead in the first-round NBA playoff series with a dominant 113-96 victory on Thursday night. McDaniels had 20 points and 10 rebounds, Ayo Dosunmu added 25 points and nine assists off the bench, and Donte DiVincenzo had 15 points and four steals as the surging Timberwolves built a 27-point lead in the third quarter and finished with a 68-34 advantage in points in the paint. Rudy Gobert followed his inspired Game 2 effort against Nikola Jokic by stifling the three-time MVP again on an ugly 7-for-26 shooting night, and the Timberwolves established a postseason franchise record by allowing the Nuggets just 11 points in the tone-setting first quarter. "The shooting really put us behind the 8-ball to start the game," Nuggets coach David Adelman said. "We only gave up 25 points in the first quarter. That's actually a very good number. We just had a hard time making shots tonight. Our physicality offensively has got to get better." Jokic finished with a too-little-too-late 27 points and 15 rebounds for the Nuggets, who were missing Aaron Gordon to a calf injury and all the energy he provides from his starting power forward spot. "He's the greatest offensive player I've guarded in my whole career," Gobert, the four-time NBA Defensive Player of the Year who had 10 points, 12 rebounds and three blocks, said of Jokic. "Just trying to enjoy the challenge." Jamal Murray had 16 points on just 5-for-17 shooting as the league's best 3-point shooting team during the regular season struggled again from deep. The Nuggets have hit 30% of their 3s in the series, going 33 for 109. But the Timberwolves did even more damage with the ball. "They're kind of pushing the pace, playing faster," Jokic said. "Don't let us set our defense, and then just driving the ball and trying to be aggressive." McDaniels, who flatly answered a question about Minnesota's offensive strategy after Game 2 by labeling all of Denver's players "bad defenders," proved to be more prescient than reckless with his assessment. Rather than iking the Nuggets, he had himself and his teammates fired up as the series shifted to their home court. The Wolves turned loose their primary wing players - McDaniels, DiVincenzo and Dosunmu - to repeatedly attack the basket as they raced around the Nuggets at every turn in the first half on the way to a 61-39 lead. "We're being decisive," Dosunmu said. "That's what it's all about." McDaniels delighted the crowd with a 3-pointer from the top of the key and a one-handed slam in traffic over Jokic and Spencer Jones down the stretch in one of his finest performances in the postseason for Minnesota. Several fans clutched signs honoring McDaniels and his blunt "bad defenders" quote, a cheeky tribute that made even the stone-faced sixth-year player smile afterward. "I thought it was a very emotionally sound game for him," Gobert said. "That's huge for him to just stay locked in, stay present, not getting frustrated."

Game Recap

A big early deficit in Denver didn't bother the Minnesota Timberwolves, who two years ago staged the biggest Game 7 comeback in NBA history, clawing out of a 20-point hole to beat the Nuggets and advance to the Western Conference finals. This time, they overcame a 19-point deficit, rallying past the Nuggets 119-114 on Monday night behind 30 points from Anthony Edwards and 24 from Julius Randle to tie their first-round playoff series at one game each. "Just coming together, staying poised within those moments," Edwards said. Jamal Murray scored 30 points for Denver, which had won 13 straight games since losing on March 18. The Nuggets jumped out to a 44-25 lead early in the second quarter only to see a potential laughter quickly turn into a head-scratcher. After outscoring the Wolves 39-25 in the first, the Nuggets watched Minnesota flip that exact score in the second period. "So, basically same quarters, first and second, just opposite teams," said Nikola Jokic, who had 24 points, 15 boards and eight assists for the Nuggets. After a slow start, Edwards looked much better than he did during his 22-point effort in Game 1, when his rust from a bum knee was apparent. This time, he drove to the basket more instead of settling for jumpers, fueling the comeback. "He was awesome. It was unbelievable," Timberwolves coach Chris Finch said. "Also in that (first) period when we were down, he was great on the bench. Great leadership, positive. He recognized he needed to get into attack mode and get downhill a little bit more. He did that." Denver blew a chance to take control against its Northwest Division rival. The Nuggets are 8-0 in their history when winning the first two games of a playoff series, and the Wolves are 0-8 when dropping Games 1 and 2. Edwards turned the ball over with 31 seconds left and Christian Braun got fouled at the other end after Jokic passed up a floater to tie it. Braun missed one of two free throws, leaving Denver trailing 115-114 with 19 seconds remaining. Randle then sank two free throws and Donte DiVincenzo added a breakout dunk to cap the comeback. "I trust C.B. to make free throws," Denver coach David Adelman said. "It rimmed out. That happens in the NBA. You're going to have moments that you don't want to remember. That's a tough moment for C.B. after playing such a good game." Murray sank a 51-foot 3-pointer at the halftime buzzer to tie it at 64. Jokic came on strong after a quiet start, scoring 16 points in the third quarter when Denver took a 93-90 lead. But the Nuggets' All-Star duo shot a combined 2 for 12 in the fourth quarter as the Wolves evened a best-of-seven series that shifts to Minneapolis for Game 3 on Thursday night. "I feel like we had the game in hand," Murray said, "and then we just didn't make our shots." Jaden McDaniels, who added 14 points for the Wolves, said the key to Minnesota's bounce-back was going "after Jokic, Jamal, all the bad defenders. Tim Hardaway, Cam Johnson, Aaron Gordon, the whole team, just go at them. Yeah, they're all bad defenders." Before tipoff, Finch complained for a third straight day about the free-throw disparity in Game 1, when the Nuggets outscored Minnesota 30-14 from the stripe. He cracked that maybe his players need to "start flopping, too." Each team went to the line 30 times Monday night.

BATTLING ON THE BOARDS - RD 2 - GM 3

The Wolves finished Game 3 on May 8 with 54 rebounds, marking their fourth game this postseason with 50+ rebounds, the most of any team in this year's playoffs. Minnesota leads all playoff teams, averaging 47.3 rebounds per game.

15 of Minnesota's 54 rebounds came on the offensive glass, marking their franchise-record sixth consecutive playoff game with 10+ offensive rebounds.

SECOND CHANCES - RD 2 - GM 3

Minnesota finished Game 3 on May 8 with 30 second chance points, tying the franchise playoff record for most second chance points (May 26, 2025 vs. Oklahoma City). It marked the Wolves' fourth consecutive playoff game with 20+ second chance points.

TIED AT THE HALF, AHEAD AT THE END - RD 2 - GM 1

After being tied at 45-45 in Game 1 in San Antonio on May 4, the Wolves held on for a 104-102 win and a 1-0 series win. Minnesota is now 5-2 (.714) all-time when tied at the half of a playoff games.

SIX SCORING IN DOUBLES - RD 2 - GM 1

Led by Julius Randle (21 points), Anthony Edwards (18 points), Jaden McDaniels (16 points), Terrence Shannon Jr (16 points), Mike Conley (12 points) and Naz Reid (12 points), the Wolves had six players scored in double figures tonight, their fifth game with six or more players in double figures this postseason, the most such games by any team.

RARIFIED AIR

Following their First Round win over the Denver Nuggets, the Timberwolves are one of three teams in the NBA that have won a playoff series in each of the last three seasons. Prior to this three season run, the Wolves had won a playoff series in just one previous season in franchise history (2003-04).

Teams That Have Won a Playoff Series in Each of the Last Three Seasons

New York Knicks	Four Consecutive Seasons
Minnesota Timberwolves	Three Consecutive Seasons
Oklahoma City Thunder	Three Consecutive Seasons

BITE-BITE THE THROAT - RD 1 - GM 6

Following their April 30 close out win against Denver, the Timberwolves are now 5-1 in their last six close out games.

TIED AT THE HALF...AGAIN - RD 2 - GM 3

With Game 3 being tied 54-54 at halftime on May 8, Minnesota became the first team in NBA Playoff history to finish the first half tied 4+ times in a single postseason (Games 1 and 2 vs. Denver and Game 1 vs. San Antonio).

UNDER 30 FROM 3 - RD 2 - GM 1

The Timberwolves held the Spurs under 40.0% from the field and from three-point range in the first half of Game 1 in San Antonio on May 4, marking their third first half holding their opponent under 40.0% in each category this postseason, tied with the Detroit Pistons for the most such first halves by any team this postseason.

At the final buzzer of Game 1, the Spurs had shot just 27.8% (10-of-36) from three, marking the fourth game this postseason in which the Wolves held their opponents under 30.0% from three, the most such games among all Western Conference teams.

INTO THE WOLVES DEN - RD 1 - GM 6

After closing out their first round series against Denver at Target Center on April 30, Minnesota is now 8-2 (.800) at home in playoff games over the last two seasons. The only teams with better home records in the playoffs in that span are Toronto (2-0) and Oklahoma City (13-2).

WINNESOTA - RD 1 - GM 6

With the Wolves closing out their first round series against the Nuggets at Target Center in Game 6 on April 30 and the Minnesota Wild eliminating the Dallas Stars in Game 6 in St. Paul on the same night, the Wolves and Wild became the seventh pair of NBA and NHL teams from the same metropolitan area to close out a seven-game playoff series on the same day, the third pair to do so both at home and the first pair to do so both in a Game 6. This marked only the second time both teams did it at home (1983 Celtics games were both at Boston Garden).

THREE STRAIGHT TRIPS TO ROUND TWO- RD 1 - GM 6

April 30 marked Minnesota's 100th playoff game in franchise history and the first time they clinched a series in Game 6.

The Wolves win means they are advancing to the second round of the NBA Playoffs for a franchise record third consecutive seasons.

A NEW ERA OF PLAYOFF SUCCESS - RD 1 - GM 6

The April 30, Game 6 win over Denver marked Minnesota's 22nd playoff win in the last three seasons. The Timberwolves had 21 playoff wins in the previous 34 seasons.

OVER 50 IN 5 - RD 1 - GM 5

In Game 5 in Denver on April 27, the Wolves finished the night shooting 50.6% (41-of-81) from the field, marking the first game during this year's playoffs in which they shot 50.0%+ from the field and the 21st time in franchise history.

HIGH-POINT PINE PRODUCTION - RD 1 - GM 4

The Wolves bench scored a franchise playoff record 76 points in their Game 4 win against the Nuggets, accounting for 67.9% of their total points, the second-highest percentage by any team in a playoff win since the NBA began tracking starters in 1970-71 (Dallas Mavericks vs. Los Angeles Lakers: May 8, 2011; Western Conference Semifinals, Game 4 70.5%).

SETTING THE TONE - GM 3

The Wolves held the Nuggets to just 11 points on 14.3% shooting (3-of-21) in the first quarter of Game 3 on April 23, the fewest first quarter points given up in a playoff game in franchise history and the fourth fewest given up in any playoff quarter in franchise history and Denver's 14.3% shooting percentage was the lowest by any Wolves opponent in a single quarter in franchise playoff history.

OWNING THE PAINT - RD 1 - GM 3

Minnesota ended Game 3 with a franchise playoff record 68 points in the paint. The Wolves 68-34 (+34) advantage down low was the largest in franchise playoff history.

ASSISTED - RD 1 - GM 3

Led by Ayo Dosunmu's nine assists, Minnesota finished Game 3 with 31 assists, the second consecutive playoff game with 30+ assists, marking only the second time in franchise playoff history they have strung together two games with 30+ assists (May 24, 2025 vs. Oklahoma City: 30 assists and May 26, 2025 vs. Oklahoma City: 30 assists). The 31 assists are the most dimes in a Game 3 in Timberwolves history (previous high: 2x; MR: May 24, 2025 vs. Oklahoma City).

On the other end, the Nuggets 12 assists in Game 3 marked their fewest assists since collecting only 11 assists on Nov. 13, 2016 (regular or postseason).

30 DIMES IN DENVER - RD1 - GM 2

Led by Donte DiVincenzo and Julius Randle, who each had six dimes, the Wolves finished the Game 2 in Denver on April 20 with 30 assists, marking the first time during this year's playoffs and the eighth playoff game in franchise history in which the Wolves recorded 30+ assists. The 30 assists mark the second-most assists in a Game 2 of a playoff series in franchise history (33 assist on May 8, 2025 vs. Golden State).

AT THE STRIPE - RD 1 - GM 2

After attempting 19 free throws in Game 1, the Wolves attempted 30 free throws in Game 2 on April 20, marking the 16th time in franchise history Minnesota has attempted 30+ free throws in a playoff game and the first time since Game 7 in Denver on May 19, 2024 (30 FTA). The Wolves are now 12-4 in the playoffs when getting to

SECOND UNIT SCORING - RD 1 - GM 5

Led by Bones Hyland (15 points), Terrence Shannon Jr (15 points) and Naz Reid (12 points) each scored in double figures off the bench in Game in Denver on April 27. It was the third playoff game in franchise history in which three or more Timberwolves scored in double figures off the bench.

EATING GLASS - RD 1 - GM 4

Led by Rudy Gobert's game-high-tying 15 rebounds, the Wolves finished Game 4 against Denver with 50 rebounds, including 16 offensive rebounds. Game 4 marked the 12th playoff game in franchise history in which Minnesota grabbed 16+ offensive boards and their second consecutive 50+ rebound playoff game, the first time in franchise playoff history the recorded back-to-back games with 50+ boards.

WIRE-TO-WIRE PLAYOFF STYLE - GM 3

Minnesota never trailed in their Game 3 win over Denver on April 23, marking the fifth playoff game in franchise history in which the Wolves won wire-to-wire, the second such game against the Nuggets (April 30, 2004; Game 5 — 102-91) and the third consecutive postseason in which Minnesota has recorded a wire-to-wire win.

SHOOTING STREAK EXTENDED - RD 1 - GM 3

Minnesota finished Game 3 shooting 47.8% (44-92) from the field and have now shot at least 45.0% from the field in 11 consecutive games against Denver (regular season and playoffs), marking the Wolves longest active streak against any opponent and the longest active streak by any team against the Nuggets.

FIRST TIME FOR EVERYTHING - RD1 - GM 2

On April 20 in Denver in Game 2, Minnesota trailed 39-25 at the end of the first quarter, marking the first time in franchise playoff history they have won a game after trailing by 10+ points after the opening quarter. Minnesota came into the April 20 contest 0-9 in previous situations.

THE PRAYER IN THIN AIR (2) - RD1 - GM 2

The Timberwolves trailed by as many as 19 points in in Game 2 in Denver on April 20 (25-44 at the 11:19 mark of the second quarter) before storming back to win the game and even the series. It marked the second largest comeback win in franchise playoff history since the 2001 NBA Playoffs, both occurring in Ball Arena.

HEAD COACH CHRIS FINCH

OVERALL RECORD: 258-193

RECORD WITH MINNESOTA: 258-193

SEASONS AS HEAD COACH IN LEAGUE: 6th

SEASONS WITH MINNESOTA: 6th

Chris Finch was named Head Coach of the Minnesota Timberwolves on February 22, 2021, becoming the team’s 16th Head Coach. On April 11, 2022, the Timberwolves announced a multi-year contract extension for Finch along with his coaching staff.

His 258 total wins over the last five seasons ranks second in team history and his .572 winning percentage passes Flip Saunders’ franchise-best mark (.521). Following the Wolves’ 128-102 victory over the Utah Jazz on March 17, 2025, Finch notched his 200th career win, doing so in his 356th game, becoming the fastest coach in team history to 200 wins. Flip Saunders (the only previous Minnesota coach to win 200 games) reached the mark in 393 games coached. Finch’s 21 playoff victories since arriving in Minnesota are the most in franchise history.

Additionally, following the Timberwolves win over the Jazz on March 17, the Wolves won their 40th game of the 2024-25 season, the fourth straight season Finch has led the team to 40+ win season. Only Flip Saunders has led them to more consecutive 40+ win seasons as a head coach than Finch’s current run of four straight.

Led by Finch, the Timberwolves finished the 2024-25 campaign with a 49-33 record, marking the first time since the 2002-03 and 2003-04 seasons that the team posted back-to-back 49+ win seasons (56-26 in 2023-24). The Wolves 49-33 mark is the sixth best record in franchise history. The Wolves clinched a spot in the NBA Playoffs for the fourth consecutive season and the 13th time in franchise history. Minnesota’s four straight trips to the postseason mark the most consecutive playoff appearances for the franchise since making the playoffs eight consecutive seasons from 1996-97- 2003-04. The Timberwolves returned to the Western Conference Finals in 2025, becoming the first team since the 2018 and 2019 Golden State Warriors to play in back-to-back Western Conference Finals.

Since arriving in Minnesota, Finch has jumped into helping the Twin Cities community. He currently serves on the Board of Directors of Second Harvest Heartland where he assists the organization, playing a critical role in helping Second Harvest Heartland to fulfill its mission of ending hunger.

Finch, 56, has over 25 years of NBA and G League experience, serving as an assistant coach under Nick Nurse and the Toronto Raptors prior to joining Minnesota. Prior to that, he made coaching stops with the New Orleans Pelicans as associate head coach from 2017-20, the Denver Nuggets as an assistant coach from 2016-17 and the Houston Rockets as an assistant coach from 2011-16. Finch was named the head coach of the Rio Grande Valley Vipers, the Rocket’s G League affiliate in 2009. He led the Vipers to back-to-back G League Finals appearances, compiling a 67-33 (.670) record in his two seasons.

After leading Rio Grande Valley to the 2010 G League Championship, Finch received the Dennis Johnson Trophy as the league’s best head coach.

The Reading, Pennsylvania native played overseas in the British Basketball League (BBL) for the Sheffield Sharks from 1993-97 before coaching the same team from 1997-2003. Finch was named the BBL Coach of the Year in 1998-99. He continued to coach overseas for 12 years including in Germany and Belgium.

Finch also served as the head coach of Great Britain’s National Team from 2006-13, where he led the national team in the 2012 Summer Olympics in London. He also led them to a European Championship berth in 2009 and 2011, the team’s first appearances since 1981.

A Franklin & Marshall College graduate in 1992, Finch was as a two-time All-American and was inducted into the F&M Sports Hall of Fame in 2002. He started the final 115 games of his collegiate career and compiled a 102-13 record (.887), which stood as the most career wins as a starter in NCAA Division III history.

Recent Player Notables:

- On April 10 in Houston, Kyle Anderson made his second start with the Timberwolves this season (313th career), finishing with 17 points on 7-of-12 shooting, six rebounds, a game-high and season-high nine assists and a game-high-tying two steals marking a season-high for points scored with the Wolves and his first 15+ point/5+ rebound/5+ assist game of the season (14th career) and his first such game since Jan. 10, 2024 at Boston, also with the Timberwolves (17 points, eight rebounds and five assists).
- In 24:32 minutes off the bench, Anderson finished with seven points on 3-of-4 shooting, five rebounds and a team-high six assists on March 17 vs. Phoenix, marking his fourth 5+ point/5+ rebound/5+ assist game off the bench this season and his first such game in a Timberwolves jersey (23rd career). This marked Anderson's 11th 5+ point/5+ rebound/5+ assist game off the bench in his two stints with the Wolves, no other player in franchise history has recorded more than six such games.
- Anderson returned to Target Center in the March 3 matchup vs. Memphis as he made his 2025-26 debut with the Timberwolves and finished with two points and one rebound in 13:45 minutes of action off the bench.

Recent Player Notables:

- Making his third start of the season on April 12 vs. New Orleans, Joan Beringer led the way for the Timberwolves with 24 points on 9-of-12 shooting, a team-high 13 rebounds and a game-high seven blocks, all of which are season-highs. It marked his first career 20+ point game, his first career double-double and his first such game with 5+ blocks. His seven blocks ties Kevin Garnett (Feb. 5, 1996 vs. Dallas) and Dean Garrett (March 16, 1997 vs. Boston).
- At 19 years and 152 days, Beringer is now the youngest player in NBA history to record 20+ points/10+ rebounds/5+ blocks and the fourth teenager to do so in NBA history.
- On April 10 in Houston, Beringer made his second start of the season, finishing with a season-high 14 points on 5-of-5 shooting, four rebounds and a season-high and game-high-tying two steals, marking his third 10+ point game of the season. Beringer is the seventh rookie in franchise history to record 10+ points without a miss from the field (min. five attempts) and the first to do so since Jaden McDaniels on March 26, 2021 vs. Houston (14 points on 5-of-5 shooting).
- Beringer finished with 18 points and a game-high 19 rebounds against the Salt Lake City Stars on March 16 in Iowa.
- On March 13 in South Bay, Beringer made his 10th appearance of the season (all starts) for the Iowa Wolves, finishing with 22 points on 9-of-11 shooting and a game-high 11 rebounds.
- Beringer finished the night of March 11 with 20 points, 15 rebounds and two blocks against the South Bay Lakers in El Segundo.
- On March 8, Beringer recorded 20 points, a game-high 16 rebounds and a game-high four blocks against the Hustle, in what was his eighth appearance this season with the Iowa Wolves.

Recent Player Notables:

- Mike Conley started Game 1 in San Antonio on May 4, finishing with 12 points, all of which came from the three-point line and a team-high and game-high-tying six assists, marking his first 10+ point game of this year's playoffs (76th palyoff career) and this first time he has led the Wolves in assists in this year's playoffs. In knocking down four shots from deep, Conley became the seventh-oldest player (38 years, 205 days) with four or more three-pointers in a game in NBA postseason history and the oldest player in franchise history to do so.
- On April 7 in Indiana, Conley finished the night with eight points on 3-of-6 shooting, including 2-of-4 from three, two rebounds, three assists and three steals. Conley now has 34 steals on the season, passing Kevin Garnett for the most steals in franchise history by a player age 38 or older.
- In his 13th start of the season (1,141st career), Conley contributed a season-high 14 points on 4-of-8 shooting, including a season-best 4-of-7 from deep, two rebounds and two assists in Detroit on April 2. Conley scored all 14 of his points in the first half of the game. At 38y-173d, he becomes the first player 38 or older in Timberwolves history to make 4+ threes in an entire game (let alone one half).
- In the Nov. 1 matchup in Charlotte, Conley logged 10 points on 3-of-6 shooting, including 2-of-3 from deep, three rebounds, and a team-high-tying six assists.

- On April 26, the Timberwolves announced the following statement on Donte Divincenzo: An MRI (Magnetic Resonance Imaging), conducted by Dr. Craig Bennett at Mayo Clinic Sports Medicine on DiVincenzo, revealed a ruptured right Achilles tendon, and he will undergo surgery on April 26 in New York by Dr. Martin O'Malley of the Hospital for Special Surgery, in collaboration with Timberwolves. DiVincenzo is out indefinitely, and further updates of his progress will be provided when available.
- On April 23, DiVincenzo finished Game 3 with 15 points, knocking down three shots from deep, four rebounds, seven assists and a gme-high four steals, marking his second consecutive 15+ point playoff game (12th career). Additionally, he became the third Wolves player to have 10+ points, 7+ assists and 4+ steals in a playoff game. He joins Mike Conley (May 28, 2024 at Dallas) and Terrell Brandon (May 9, 1999 at San Antonio).
- DiVincenzo finished the night of Gmae 2 in Denver on April 20 with 16 points on 6-of-9 shooting, including connecting on four shots from deep, seven rebounds and a team-high-tying six assists, marking his first 15+ point game of this year's playoffs (11th playoff career) and his first career playoff game with 15+ point/5+ rebound/5+ assists.
- Game 2 marked DiVincenzo's second game of this year's playoffs with 4+ made threes, his 10th such career playoff game and his third such game in a Timberwolves uniform. It also marked DiVincenzo's ninth consecutive playoff game with multiple made threes, extending the longest such streak in franchise history.
- After starting the April 12 game vs. New Orleans, DiVincenzo ended his 2025-26 campaign having started all 82 games, one of four players in the NBA this season to do so. This was the first time in his career he has played in all 82 games and he is the 16th player in franchise history to do so.

Recent Player Notables:

- Anthony Edwards led the Timberwolves in Game 3 on May 8 with a team-high 32 points, a playoff-career-high-tying 14 rebounds and a team-high six assists, marking his second 30+ point game of this year's playoffs (17th playoff career). Edwards (24 years, 276 days) became the seventh player in NBA history to record 17 or more 30+ point playoff games before turning 25 years old.
- Game 3 also marked Edwards' first career playoff game with 30+ points, 10+ rebounds and 5+ assists, joining Kevin Garnett (April 22, 2003 vs. Los Angeles Lakers: 35 points, 20 rebounds and seven assists) as the only players in franchise history to record such a stat line in a playoff game.
- After finishing Game 3 with 32 points, Edwards has passed Magic Johnson for seventh on the all-time postseason points list before turning 25 years old
- Playing in his franchise record 48th career playoff game in Game 2 in San Antonio on May 6, Edwards added a team-high-tying 12 points. In knocking down one shot from deep, Edwards has now made a three-pointer in 16 straight postseason games, the longest such streak in franchise playoff history and the 11th longest active streak in the NBA.
- After missing the last two playoff games with an injury, Edwards returned to action in Game 1 in San Antonio on May 4, recording 18 points on 8-of-13 shooting, including 2-of-3 from deep and three assists in 25:15 minutes of action off the bench, marking his 46th career playoff game with 15+ points, the most in franchise history.
- Edwards scored 11 points in the fourth quarter of Game 1 in San Antonio, his 10th career 10+ point fourth quarter in the postseason, becoming the ninth player in the NBA to record 10+ such fourth quarters in the playoffs since the 2020-21 season.

Recent Player Notables:

- Rudy Gobert ended Game 2 in San Antonio on May 6 with five points and 10 rebounds, marking his sixth 10+ point rebound game of this year's playoffs and the 56th such playoff game of his career, the sixth most 10+ rebound playoff games among all active NBA players.
- With four of Gobert's rebounds coming on the offensive glass, Gobert has now recorded at least one offensive board in 13 straight playoff games, tied for the fifth longest streak in franchise playoff history.
- In Game 6 vs. Denver on April 30, Gobert added 10 points on 4-of-6 shooting, a game-high 13 rebounds, a playoff career-high eight assists (ties his regular season career-high) and zero turnovers, marking his first double-double of this year's playoffs and the 44th such game of his career. It also marked his first career playoff game with 10+ points/10+ rebounds/5+ assists, becoming the fifth player in franchise playoff history to record such a game and joining Garnett (nine times) as the only other player to record such a game with multiple blocks.
- After his Game 6 performance, Gobert joined Nikola Jokić (April 27, 2019 vs. San Antonio) as the only centers in NBA playoff history to record 10+ rebounds/8+ assists and 2+ blocks without a turnover.
- With six of Gobert's boards coming on the offensive glass in Game 6 on April 30, his performance marked the fourth time in franchise playoff history a player recorded 6+ rebounds and 6+ assists.
- Gobert finished Game 3 on April 23 with 10 points, a team-high 12 rebounds, and a game-high three blocks, marking his 18th career playoff game with 10+ points/10+ rebounds/2+ blocks and his fourth such game with the Timberwolves, tied with Karl-Anthony Towns for the second-most playoff games in franchise history with 10+ points/10+ rebounds/2+ blocks.

Recent Player Notables:

- Joe Ingles finished the night of April 12 vs. New Orleans with 15 points on 6-of-10 shooting, 3-of-6 from deep, six rebounds and a game-high 10 assists, all of which are season highs. It marked Ingles first 10+ point/10+ assist game of the season (16th career) and his first such game since Dec. 30, 2022 vs. Minnesota as a member of the Milwaukee Bucks (14 points/10 assists).
- Ingles was the ninth player in NBA history aged 38 or older to record 15+ points/5+ rebounds/10+ assists and the first player in franchise history to record such a stat line.
- On April 8 in Orlando, Ingles made his first start of the season, finishing with seven points on 3-of-4 shooting, four rebounds and four assists. Ingles joins Kevin Garnett (2x) and Andre Miller as the only other player is franchise history to record such a stat line age 38 or older.

Recent Player Notables:

- Jaden McDaniels led the Timberwolves in Game 2 in San Antonio on May 6 with a team-high-tying 12 points on 6-of-10 shooting, three rebounds and a team-high-tying four assists, marking his playoff-career-best eight consecutive 10+ point game of this year's playoffs (30th playoff career). McDaniels joins Kevin Garnett and Anthony Edwards as the only players in franchise history to score 10+ points in 30+ playoff games.
- McDaniels' 12 points in game 2 gave him 606 career points in the playoffs, moving him past Karl-Anthony Towns (603) for the third-most points in franchise playoff history.
- After pulling down one offensive rebound in Game 2 in San Antonio, McDaniels has now grabbed at least one offensive rebound in 15 consecutive playoff games, the longest such streak in franchise history.
- McDaniels ended Game 1 in San Antonio on May 4 with 16 points on 7-of-14 shooting, five rebounds, one block and one steal, marking his second consecutive 15+ point/5+ rebound/1+ block/1+ steal playoff game, his third such game of this year's playoffs and his sixth such career playoff game. The Wolves are now 6-0 in the playoffs when McDaniels records such a stat line and he is one of four players in franchise playoff history to record 6+ such games.
- On April 30 McDaniels led the way for the Timberwolves in their Game 6 close out win against Denver with a game-high and career-high (regular season or postseason) 32 points on 13-of-25 shooting, a series-high-tying 10 rebounds, three assists, a game-high-tying two steals and zero turnovers, marking his first 30+ point/10+ rebound playoff game of his career. McDaniels is the second player in franchise playoff history to record 30+ points/10+ rebounds/2+ steals, joining Kevin Garnett, who did so five times.

Recent Player Notables:

- In 31:58 minutes off the bench, Naz Reid finished Game 3 on May 8 with 18 points on 6-of-13, including 4-of-8 from the three-point line, nine rebounds, five assists and two blocks, marking his first career playoff game with 15+ points/5+ rebounds/5+ assists/2+ blocks. Reid became the first player in franchise history to record such a stat line off the bench in a playoff game and just the 12th player in NBA Playoff history to do so.
- On May 6 in Game 2 in San Antonio, Reid recorded 21:27 minutes of action off the bench, finishing with 11 points on 4-of-7 shooting, including 3-of-4 from deep and seven rebounds, marking his fifth consecutive and sixth overall 10+ point/5+ rebound game off the bench of this year's playoffs (17th playoff career). Reid's five consecutive 10+ point/5+ rebound playoff games off the bench mark the longest such streak in franchise history.
- Following his Game 2 performance in San Antonio, Reid has now made 65 threes off the bench in his postseason career, passing Sasha Vucajic for the 35th most in NBA Playoff history. It also marked Reid's 17th career playoff game with multiple three-point makes off the bench, tied for the eighth-most among all active NBA players.
- Reid recorded his 200th career playoff rebound off the bench (now at 202) in Game 2 in San Antonio, becoming the 10th active NBA player with 200+ postseason rebounds off the bench.
- In 24:06 minutes off the bench in Game 5 in Denver, Reid finished with 12 points and eight rebounds, marking his third 10+ point/5+ rebound game of this year's playoffs and his 14th such game of his playoff career. Reid's 14 career playoff games with 10+ points and 5+ rebounds are the most in franchise history and he is one of 28 players
