HOT TAKES:

- Bam Adebayo is currently in his 10th season with the HEAT, becoming just the fourth player in team history to play at least 10 seasons in Miami, joining only Udonis Haslem, Dwyane Wade and Alonzo Mourning.
- Dating back to last season, Miami is a perfect 16-0 when outrebounding their opponent by double-figures, with 10 of those on the road.
- The HEAT has currently scored at least 100 points in 30-straight home games.
- Giannis Antetokounmpo is just 16 made field goals shy from the 8,000th of his career.
- Antetokounmpo is also just 34 points short from tying Larry Bird for 40th place on the NBA's all-time scoring list.
- Bam Adebayo is just 10 made field goals short from the 4,000th of his career.

BACK-TO-BACK: Tonight is the second of a road-road back-to-back after just recording a, 117-116, overtime win against the Clippers last night in Los Angeles. It marks Miami's second of 13 back-to-backs this season. Additionally, the HEAT will play at least one back-to-back each month, including a season-high three in January.

KLAY GAME-WINNERS: Klay Thompson connected on the game-winning three-point field goal with one second remaining in overtime to help give Miami a, 117-116, victory against the Clippers on November 4. It marks as his third career game-winning bucket (five seconds or less remaining in game), following his basket with 1.6 seconds left vs. Sacramento on November 1, 2023 and his basket with 0.6 seconds remaining at Indiana on March 4, 2014. Additionally, Thompson leads the HEAT with 31 made three-point field goals this season, connecting on multiple treys seven times.

DAVION DOUBLE-DOUBLES: Davion Mitchell has posted five double-doubles already this season after recording five all of last season. He posted 11 points & 11 assists in the opener vs. Minnesota, 22 points & 10 assists on October 24 at Charlotte, 10 points & 10 assists on October 28 at Atlanta, 15 points & 11 assists on October 30 vs. Indiana and 11 points & 10 assists on November 5 at the LA Clippers.

CLEANING THE GLASS: Bam Adebayo became the all-time franchise leader in total rebounds on October 28 at Atlanta. He is now the all-time rebound leader in total rebounds and defensive rebounds and is just 35 offensive boards from tying Rony Seikaly for the third-most in team history. Below are the most offensive rebounds in HEAT franchise history.

HEAT ALL-TIME OFF REBS	PLAYER
1,615	Udonis Haslem
1,505	Alonzo Mourning
1,474	Rony Seikaly
1,439	Bam Adebayo

QUICKEST TRIPLE-DOUBLE: Giannis Antetokounmpo recorded a 29-point, 14-rebound, 11-assist triple-double on October 26 vs. Dallas. He completed the triple-double at the 8:19 mark in the third quarter, becoming the fastest player in franchise history to record a triple-double (since play-by-plays were tracked in 1996-97). Additionally, with his triple-double on October 30 vs. Indiana, he has now totaled 58 career triple-doubles. Below are the quickest triple-doubles in team history.

FOREIGN BORN: Miami opening night roster included seven foreign born players, including Giannis Antetokounmpo (Greece), Simone Fontecchio (Italy), Vladislav Goldin (Russia), Nikola Jović (Serbia), Pelle Larsson (Sweden), Nick Richards (Jamaica) and Andrew Wiggins (Canada). That marked as the most for any HEAT opening night roster in team history, surpassing the previous high of six which occurred last season.

WE GOT SHOOTERS: Miami has four players that shot at least 40 percent from three-point range last season, including Bobby Portis Jr. (career-high .456), Andrew Wiggins (career-high .414), Tim Hardaway Jr. (career-high .407) and Myron Gardner (.406). The HEAT's four players with at least 40 percent from downtown would have tied for the third-most in the entire NBA last season (minimum 50 attempts). Additionally, Davion Mitchell was close to becoming the fifth such player as he shot .395 from downtown last season.

10,000-POINT CLUB: Miami currently has five different players on their roster that have each scored at least 10,000 career points, including Giannis Antetokounmpo, Klay Thompson, Andrew Wiggins, Tim Hardaway Jr. and Bam Adebayo. It marks as the most players with at least 10,000 career points on any roster in the NBA this season.

DOUBLE-DOUBLES & POINTS: Bam Adebayo has now posted at least 30 double-doubles in a franchise-record six-straight seasons and at least 20 double-doubles in a team-record seven consecutive seasons. He also scored his 10,000th career point last year, becoming just the second player in HEAT history to reach the milestone, joining only Dwyane Wade (21,556). Additionally, he scored 1,468 points last season, marking his seventh consecutive campaign with at least 1,000 points, the second-longest streak in franchise history. Below are the longest 1,000-point streaks in HEAT history.

HEAT CONSEC 1,000-PT SEASONS	PLAYER
12	Dwyane Wade

SCORING IN BUNCHES: Miami scored at least 130 points 19 times last season, the most 130+ point games during a single season in team history, surpassing the previous record of four times, set twice, first in 2008-09 and again in 2019-20. Their 12 games of 140+ points last season was also a franchise record for a single season, surpassing their previous best of two (2023-24), as Miami had recorded eight total 140-point games in their history entering last season. Additionally, the HEAT are now a perfect 20-0 all-time when scoring at least 140 points.

2026-27 HEAT HISTORY

SEASON 39: The HEAT are currently in their 39th season in franchise history. Despite being the NBA's sixth-youngest franchise, Miami has captured three NBA Championships (2006, 2012, 2013) as only five other teams in the league have more. The HEAT has also earned seven Eastern Conference championships (2006, 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2020, 2023), already the second-most, only Boston, who joined the NBA in 1949, has more. Miami has recorded 16 division titles, the fifth-most in the NBA, and has made 26 postseason appearances, having not missed the playoffs in consecutive seasons over the last 23 years. Additionally, entering the 2026-27 season, the HEAT has posted an all-time 1,601-1,448 (.525) regular season record, the eighth-highest winning percentage among active teams in NBA history.

HALL OF FAME: The Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame includes 13 individuals with ties to the Miami HEAT franchise, including Billy Cunningham (1986), Jack Ramsay (1992), Bob McAdoo (2000), Pat Riley (2008), Gary Payton (2013), Alonzo Mourning (2014), Shaquille O'Neal (2016), Ray Allen (2018), Chris Bosh (2021), Tim Hardaway (2022), Dwyane Wade (2023), Micky Arison (2025) and Amar'e Stoudemire (2026).

ALL-STAR WEEKEND: Miami players have been selected to the NBA All-Star Game 42 times, with 12 different players participating, including Dwyane Wade (13 times), Chris Bosh (six times), Alonzo Mourning (five times), LeBron James (four times), Bam Adebayo (three times), Shaquille O'Neal (three times), Jimmy Butler (twice), Tim Hardaway (twice), Anthony Mason, Goran Dragić, Tyler Herro and Norman Powell. The HEAT has also won the Slam Dunk Contest four times, including Harold Miner twice (1995 & 1993), Derrick Jones Jr. (2020) and Keshad Johnson (2026) and five different Miami players have won the Three-Point Contest (Tyler Herro in 2025, James Jones in 2011, Daequan Cook in 2009, Jason Kapono in 2007 and Glen Rice in 1995), marking the most by any team in NBA history.

WILT. BAM. KOBE.: Bam Adebayo scored a franchise-record 83 points on March 10, 2026 vs. Washington, marking the second-most points in NBA history. He connected on 36 free throws, the most all-time, surpassing the previous record of 28 set by Wilt Chamberlain (3/2/62) and Adrian Dantley (1/4/84). His 31 first quarter points were the most by any HEAT player for a quarter in team history and his 43 first half points were also the most for any half in HEAT history. Additionally, he made a career-high 20 field goals, tying the second-most in team history and connected on a career-high seven three-point field goals. Below are the most points scored during a single game in NBA history.

NBA ALL-TIME SINGLE GAME PTS	PLAYER	DATE

2026-27 HEAD COACH

ERIK SPOELSTRA (Portland)

Regular Season Coaching Record: 833-616, currently in 19th season

Postseason Coaching Record: 110-83, 14 postseason appearances

Erik Spoelstra is currently in his 19th season as head coach of the HEAT and his 32nd as a member of the organization. He is the longest active tenured head coach in the NBA with a single team after he was elevated to his current position on April 28, 2008. Spoelstra has totaled 14 postseason appearances, nine division titles, six conference championships and guided the franchise to a pair of NBA titles while also capturing an NBA Championship in 2006 as an assistant coach. Recognized as one of the game's best coaches, Spoelstra was selected as one of the NBA's 15 Greatest Coaches in NBA History and was named head coach of USA Basketball Men's National Team. Additionally, Spoelstra has earned Coach of the Month honors a franchise-record 10 times.

In his previous 18 seasons at the helm, Spoelstra has made his mark on the HEAT record book as the winningest coach in franchise history. Entering this season, he holds team records in wins, winning percentage and games coached. He has 14 postseason appearances in his previous 18 seasons and Spoelstra has never missed the playoffs in consecutive seasons since becoming head coach as he also holds HEAT postseason records in wins, series won and games coached.

When Spoelstra first took over the head coaching duties in 2008, he was given the task of improving a young team that had been ravaged by injuries the previous season and had won just 15 games. He then recorded 43 wins in his first season, the most by a first year HEAT coach in team history, while on his way to a postseason berth. Miami became just the second team in NBA history to make the playoffs after winning 15-or-fewer games the previous season. The only other team to do so was the 1968-69 San Diego Rockets, in which HEAT President Pat Riley was a member of.

From 2010-14, Spoelstra took one of the most scrutinized teams and guided them to consecutive NBA Championships, four-straight Conference Championships and four consecutive NBA Finals appearances, becoming just the third franchise in NBA history to make four consecutive NBA Finals appearances, joining the Celtics and Lakers. It also made them just one of 10 franchises in the four major North American sports leagues to make four consecutive trips to the league championship. Individually, Spoelstra became just the fourth head coach in NBA history to lead his team to four-straight Finals appearances joining Red Auerbach, K.C. Jones and Pat Riley. Spoelstra also became one of just 13 head coaches in NBA history to have won multiple championships and only the eighth to win a championship in consecutive seasons.

The 2012 championship culminated a compressed 2011-12 season in which Miami went 46-20 and captured its second consecutive Southeast Division title. The regular season was highlighted by a nine-game win streak (Feb. 10-Mar. 1) with each victory a double-digit win. During that streak the HEAT became the first team to win road games on three consecutive nights (Feb. 12-14) since December of 1979 and the first to win each of those contests by double-digits since the 1970-71 season.

Before taking over as the sixth head coach in HEAT history, Spoelstra had served Miami in a number of roles in his first 13 years. He was originally hired as video coordinator and over the years was promoted to assistant coach/video coordinator, assistant coach/advance scout and assistant coach/director of scouting, before ascending to head coach. He made a name for himself around the league with his game preparation and superb attention to detail. In his seven seasons as the HEAT's assistant coach/director of scouting, he had the primary role of developing game plans for upcoming opponents. To that end, he coordinated the video staff and advance scouts while overseeing the development of scouting reports and videos.

In 1992, he graduated from the University of Portland with a degree in communications. While attending Portland, Spoelstra was the starting point guard for four years and was named the West Coast Conference Freshman of the Year in 1989. Upon graduating he spent two years as a player/coach for Tus Herten, a team in the professional sports league of Germany.

He has returned to his native Philippines to host clinics and promote education, health and wellness to thousands of at-risk youth through grassroots programs and events. The nine-day program in Manila in the summer of 2011 was the largest NBA FIT event ever hosted in Southeast Asia under the NBA Cares umbrella. In the summer of 2012, Coach Spoelstra expanded his reach into other Southeast Asia nations by conducting coaches clinics and other FIT activities in Singapore.

Raised in Portland, OR, Spoelstra, who was inducted into the Jesuit High School Athletic Hall of Fame in September 2009, is the first Asian/Filipino-American head coach in any of the major North American sports leagues. Spoelstra is the son of Jon Spoelstra, a long-time NBA executive who has guided the Portland Trail Blazers, Denver Nuggets, Buffalo Braves and New Jersey Nets. His grandfather, Watson, was a Detroit Tigers beat writer for many years. In his free time, Spoelstra enjoys spending time with his sons Santiago and Dante and daughter, Ruby, and their dog Rosie.
