Game Recap

Victor Wembanyama atoned for his first career ejection with another huge performance, finishing with 27 points, 17 rebounds, five assists and three blocks as the San Antonio Spurs beat the Minnesota Timberwolves 126-97 on Tuesday night to take a 3-2 lead in their second-round series. At 22 years old, Wembanyama is the third-youngest player in NBA history to post that stat line in a playoff game, trailing only Magic Johnson (20) and Luka Doncic (21). "I was fresh, feeling good," Wembanyama said. "Honestly, it's hard to tell. It was just Game 5. Obviously, I'm going to be excited (and) to have butterflies. So, excitement is not something abnormal at this point in the playoffs." Keldon Johnson had 21 points, De'Aaron Fox added 18 and Stephon Castle had 17 as San Antonio moved a game away from the Western Conference finals. The Spurs can advance to face Oklahoma City with a victory in Game 6 on Friday in Minneapolis. Anthony Edwards, who was limited to eight points in the first half, finished with 20 points for Minnesota. Julius Randle and Jaden McDaniels added 17 points apiece. Wembanyama returned after being ejected early in the second quarter of Minnesota's 114-109 victory Sunday during Game 4 in Minneapolis. Wembanyama received a Flagrant 2 foul after elbowing Naz Reid in the throat. Both teams continued to hammer each other, with Reid receiving a technical foul for pushing Wembanyama in the back on a Minnesota free throw with 2:24 left in the first half. "I felt like, to start the game, we knew it was going to be physical," Castle said. "So, just making that a point of emphasis and trying to keep them off the offensive glass. I feel like we started the game off well and that's where our runs came from. But obviously they're a good team. They're going to go on their own run. So, just try not to hang our head when that does happen and be able to respond and spark another run for ourselves." The foul by Reid fired up Wembanyama, not that he needed any additional motivation. Wembanyama was 6 for 8 from the field and 2 for 3 on 3-pointers in scoring 18 points in the opening quarter. "I think it's super important for us the way we start the game, because it sets the tone," Wembanyama said, "Now the challenge is to do it for 48 minutes." The Timberwolves opened the third quarter on a 14-2 run to tie the game at 61 after trailing by 18 points in the first half. Minnesota tipped away three attempted alley-oop passes to Wembanyama before they reached the 7-foot-4 post. The Spurs recaptured a double-digit lead in the third spurred by Johnson's block on Rudy Gobert's attempted dunk followed by his short jumper after bodying Edwards under the rim. "We went away from what was working," Timberwolves coach Chris Finch said. "Our defense just cratered. We gave up 30 points, I think, in the last six minutes of the third quarter. A lot of it was just ball contain, ball contain stuff." San Antonio held its opponent under 100 points for the fifth time in 10 games this postseason. "I thought we did a good job of having resistance early in the clock," Spurs coach Mitch Johnson said. "They've shown as the series has gone on, they've tried to play faster at times and they're tough when they get downhill. I think when we've had better starting spots, more connectivity at the start of possessions, I think it's really helped us be on a string and be organized and connected defensively."

Game Recap

Anthony Edwards had 16 of his 36 points in the fourth quarter to help the Minnesota Timberwolves even their second-round NBA playoff series against the San Antonio Spurs with a 114-109 victory, following the stunning ejection of star Victor Wembanyama early in the second quarter of Game 4 on Sunday. Naz Reid took the fateful elbow to the neck from a frustrated Wembanyama and finished with 15 points and nine rebounds to help the Timberwolves finish strong after some shaky stretches. "Pain is weakness leaving the body," Reid said. "That's it." Edwards hit a 27-footer to bring the Wolves to within 94-91, turning to shout at the crowd for some help down the stretch. His catch-and-shoot 3-pointer from the wing with 5:12 left put them up 98-97, their first lead since midway through the third quarter. Then the big men went to work without Wembanyama patrolling the paint. Rudy Gobert, who had 11 points and 13 rebounds, converted a three-point play with 3:02 left off a high-low feed from Reid and later threw down a dunk for a 107-101 lead with 1:56 to go after a slick pass from Julius Randle. Reid's follow shot with 40 seconds left gave the Wolves a seven-point lead, before Dylan Harper had a rebound, a drawn foul, a steal and two free throws to help the Spurs pull within three. After managing to corral a full-court baseball toss from inbound passer Jaden McDaniels as De'Aaron Fox undercut his leaping catch and caused a loose ball, Ayo Dosunmu drew a foul and sank two free throws with 9.8 seconds left to put the game out of reach and tie the series at two games apiece. San Antonio hosts Game 5 on Tuesday, with Wembanyama's status to be determined by the league following the Flagrant 2 foul call and automatic ejection he was levied for the excessive contact to Reid. Harper and Fox each scored 24 points and Stephon Castle added 20 as the Spurs guards unflinchingly took the baton from their 7-foot-4 superstar and turned the rest of the night into a midrange clinic with an array of pull-up jumpers in and around the paint. "Just trying to be what the team needed me to be," said Harper, the second overall pick in the NBA draft last year. "I think I did OK. Obviously the main goal is to win. We didn't get that done." The crowd at Target Center went wild when Wembanyama walked off the floor with Minnesota leading by two, but the Wolves never fully took advantage of the gift created by his absence. They've long had a tendency of losing their edge, particularly defensively, when an opponent's star player is missing. "When every team is missing their best player, everybody plays free. They get more shots, more confident," Edwards said. "So I think it was a lot harder on us." After committing six turnovers in a 20-point third quarter, the Wolves found themselves in another eight-point hole early in the fourth following Fox's 3-pointer before delivering another clutch finish. "We have a resilient group of guys. No matter the circumstances, we are going to keep fighting and give everything we have and keep trusting one another," Gobert said. "Just making the right play. That's who we are. We might not be always consistent with that, but I feel like when it matters, we raise our level."

Game Recap

Anthony Edwards scored 18 points in his unexpected return from injury and the Minnesota Timberwolves overcame a huge game by Victor Wembanyama and held on to beat the San Antonio Spurs 104-102 in the opener of the Western Conference semifinals on Monday night. Edwards was expected to miss at least the first two games of the series after suffering a bone bruise and hyperextending his left knee on April 25 during Game 4 of Minnesota's opening-round series against Denver. But he had 11 points in the fourth quarter as Minnesota held on to hand San Antonio only its second loss in its last 17 series openers at home. "Nobody expected him to play," Timberwolves veteran Mike Conley said. "It was just his level of commitment to the game. Not just to the game, but to his teammates. It showed a lot." Wembanyama had 11 points and 15 rebounds and set an NBA postseason record with 12 blocks. He's the third player to get a triple-double in the playoffs including blocks since the league began tracking blocks in 1973-74. San Antonio cut the deficit to 104-102 on a steal by Devin Vassell and layup by Dylan Harper with 31 seconds remaining. Following a miss by Minnesota's Julius Randle, Julian Champagnie couldn't connect on a 3-pointer at the buzzer. "We have to be better," Wembanyama said. "It shows up on the stat sheet. We need to figure out before 48 hours what we can do better and I've got no doubt that we will. I trust us." Randle finished with 21 points and 10 rebounds for the Timberwolves. Harper scored 18 points and Champagnie and Stephon Castle had 17 each for the Spurs. Edwards worked diligently to return for Minnesota with guards Donte DiVincenzo (torn right Achilles tendon) and Ayo Dosunmu (right calf soreness) out with injuries. "I know for a fact, just me being out there, it calms everybody down," Edwards said. "Not saying there's any pressure on any of my teammates, but it takes pressure off of everybody just knowing that I'm out there, I'm available to play, yeah. And just doing what I do best, just trying to put the ball in the hoop." After draining a stepback 3-pointer early in the game, Edwards looked toward the Spurs bench and screamed: "I'm back! I'm back!" He definitely was. Edwards did not start, entering the game with 6:53 remaining in the first quarter and the Timberwolves trailing 11-8. He finished 8 for 13 in 25 minutes. Game 2 is Wednesday in San Antonio. Wembanyama had seven blocks in the first half. The NBA Defensive Player of the Year opened the game by blocking a pair of driving layups from Terrence Shannon Jr. on consecutive possessions. Two minutes later, he blocked Gobert's driving layup just under the rim. Wembanyama finished 5 for 17 from the field.

HEAD COACH CHRIS FINCH

OVERALL RECORD: 258-193

RECORD WITH MINNESOTA: 258-193

SEASONS AS HEAD COACH IN LEAGUE: 6th

SEASONS WITH MINNESOTA: 6th

Chris Finch was named Head Coach of the Minnesota Timberwolves on February 22, 2021, becoming the team’s 16th Head Coach. On April 11, 2022, the Timberwolves announced a multi-year contract extension for Finch along with his coaching staff.

His 258 total wins over the last five seasons ranks second in team history and his .572 winning percentage passes Flip Saunders’ franchise-best mark (.521). Following the Wolves’ 128-102 victory over the Utah Jazz on March 17, 2025, Finch notched his 200th career win, doing so in his 356th game, becoming the fastest coach in team history to 200 wins. Flip Saunders (the only previous Minnesota coach to win 200 games) reached the mark in 393 games coached. Finch’s 21 playoff victories since arriving in Minnesota are the most in franchise history.

Additionally, following the Timberwolves win over the Jazz on March 17, the Wolves won their 40th game of the 2024-25 season, the fourth straight season Finch has led the team to 40+ win season. Only Flip Saunders has led them to more consecutive 40+ win seasons as a head coach than Finch’s current run of four straight.

Led by Finch, the Timberwolves finished the 2024-25 campaign with a 49-33 record, marking the first time since the 2002-03 and 2003-04 seasons that the team posted back-to-back 49+ win seasons (56-26 in 2023-24). The Wolves 49-33 mark is the sixth best record in franchise history. The Wolves clinched a spot in the NBA Playoffs for the fourth consecutive season and the 13th time in franchise history. Minnesota’s four straight trips to the postseason mark the most consecutive playoff appearances for the franchise since making the playoffs eight consecutive seasons from 1996-97- 2003-04. The Timberwolves returned to the Western Conference Finals in 2025, becoming the first team since the 2018 and 2019 Golden State Warriors to play in back-to-back Western Conference Finals.

Since arriving in Minnesota, Finch has jumped into helping the Twin Cities community. He currently serves on the Board of Directors of Second Harvest Heartland where he assists the organization, playing a critical role in helping Second Harvest Heartland to fulfill its mission of ending hunger.

Finch, 56, has over 25 years of NBA and G League experience, serving as an assistant coach under Nick Nurse and the Toronto Raptors prior to joining Minnesota. Prior to that, he made coaching stops with the New Orleans Pelicans as associate head coach from 2017-20, the Denver Nuggets as an assistant coach from 2016-17 and the Houston Rockets as an assistant coach from 2011-16. Finch was named the head coach of the Rio Grande Valley Vipers, the Rocket’s G League affiliate in 2009. He led the Vipers to back-to-back G League Finals appearances, compiling a 67-33 (.670) record in his two seasons.

After leading Rio Grande Valley to the 2010 G League Championship, Finch received the Dennis Johnson Trophy as the league’s best head coach.

The Reading, Pennsylvania native played overseas in the British Basketball League (BBL) for the Sheffield Sharks from 1993-97 before coaching the same team from 1997-2003.
