QUICK NOTES

The Warriors look to win four consecutive games for the first time this season (this is the third time they have a three-game winning streak). This is the first time this season the Warriors are five games over .500. The Warriors have won 11 of their last 15 games, including five of the last six. At home, Golden State has won nine of the last 11 and is 5-1 on its current franchise-record-tying eight-game homestand.

The Warriors host the Heat Monday night (January 19) on Martin Luther King Jr. Day in the seventh game of this homestand. This is the second of two meetings; the Heat won the first meeting, 110-96, on November 19 at Miami. The Heat have won five of the last six meetings against the Warriors, including the last three. Additionally, the Heat have won the last two matchups in the Bay Area.

Tonight's game vs. the Heat begins the Warriors' ninth set of back-to-backs. The set concludes tomorrow night vs. the Raptors. The Warriors are 4-4 in the first game of back-to-backs. This is the third of four home-home back-to-back sets this season. The Warriors split the last home-home B2B set and swept the first one this season.

This is the ninth contest in a stretch in which the Warriors play 10 of 11 games at home and never leave the state (the lone road game was on 1/5 at the Clippers) from January 2 to 20. Tonight's game also is the seventh game in the Warriors' eight-game homestand (Warriors currently 5-1), tied for longest in franchise history (fourth time). According to the Elias Sports Bureau, it's the fourth time the Warriors have played eight consecutive games at home (1/24/11 – 2/9/11, 10/28/21 – 11/12/21, 12/25/22 – 1/10/23, 1/7/26 – 1/20/26). The last time the Warriors had 10 of 11 games at home was 12/19/23 to 1/10/24, according to the Elias Sports Bureau. The last time the Warriors played 11 consecutive games without leaving the state was 1/7/11 to 2/9/11 when they had 16 consecutive games without leaving California.

In the month of January the Warriors have 11 home games, one shy of the franchise record of 12 home games played in a single month (November 2006 and March 2016). The last time Golden State played 11-or-more home games in a single month was last season when they had 11 games in January 2025. The most home games an NBA team plays in a single month during the 2025-26 regular season is 11, Golden State and Philadelphia, both in the month of January.

In each of the last three games (1/13 vs. Portland, 1/15 vs. New York, 1/17 vs. Charlotte), the Warriors had 10 players make at least one 3-pointer, becoming the first team with a three-game streak of that kind since the 3-point line was introduced in 1979-80, according to the Elias Sports Bureau.

According to NBA.com, the Warriors (5-1) are ranked first in offensive rating (126.7) in the last six games. In the last 15 games, the Warriors (11-4) are ranked third in offensive rating (120.3), trailing only Charlotte (124.3) and Boston (122.6), according to NBA.com. According to NBA.com, the Warriors are ranked sixth in the NBA in defensive rating (112.4). The Warriors are tied with Atlanta for fourth in steals per game (9.5), eighth in opponent scoring (113.3 ppg), tied with Phoenix for seventh in opponent 3-point field goal percentage (34.7 3P%).

The Warriors have used the same starting lineup in 12 of the last 14 games, including seven of the last eight - Stephen Curry, Moses Moody, Quinten Post, Draymond Green and Jimmy Butler III. The Warriors are 10-3 with this starting lineup during that stretch (and 10-5 overall this season). Prior to this stretch, eight unique lineups were deployed in as many games. The Warriors have deployed 16 different starting lineups this season.

The Warriors reserves have scored at least 60 points eight times this season, most recently on January 17 vs. Charlotte, accounting for a season-high 72 points. The Warriors reserves are averaging 43.7 points per game, ranked third in the NBA. Last season, the Warriors ranked third in bench scoring at 43.6 points per game.

Golden State's last clutch game was a 103-102 loss on January 5 at LA Clippers. The Warriors' last clutch game at home was on December 20 vs. Phoenix (W, 119-116). The Warriors have not had a clutch game in their last six contests, eight of their last nine. The Warriors are 8-12 in clutch games in the 2025-26 season. Clutch games are games in which the score is within five in the final five minutes of the game. In 2024-25, Golden State was 25-20 in clutch games during the regular season, 1-0 in the play-in tournament and 3-1 in the playoffs.

Including this season, the Warriors are 47-27 in regular season games since Jimmy Butler III made his Warriors debut on February 8, 2025 at Chicago. The Warriors, when Stephen Curry, Draymond Green and Jimmy Butler III are in the lineup, have a 20-10 road record in the regular season (14-1 last season) and are 40-17 overall in regular season (18-12 in 2025-26; 22-5 in 2024-25).

Stephen Curry has made 149 3-pointers this season, second-most in the NBA this season behind Cleveland's Donovan Mitchell (152). Curry leads the NBA in 3-pointers made per game at 4.5; second is Mitchell, 3.9.

Since returning to the lineup on December 12 vs. Minnesota after a five-game absence (left quadriceps contusion), in the last 17 games, Curry is averaging 27.4 points (47.0 FG%, 38.1 3P%, 94.3 FT%), 3.8 rebounds, 5.8 assists, 0.9 steals in 32.8 minutes per game.
