THE BUZZ: HORNETS TEAM NOTES

Hornets at the Halfway Point

- The Jan. 15 contest at Los Angeles was game #41 of the 2025-26 season, marking the exact halfway point for the Hornets.
- Through half of the season, Charlotte ranked #9 in offense (116.7 ORTG), #22 in defense (166.6 DRTG) and #16 in net rating (0.1 NET) league-wide.
- Charlotte is one of the best rebounding teams in the NBA, ranking #4 in offensive rebounding (34.5 OREB%) and #2 in defensive rebounding (72.1 DREB%) and total rebounding (53.1% REB).
- Offensively, the Hornets hang their hat on efficient, high-volume 3-point shooting. Charlotte ranked 5th in 3-point attempts per game (41.2) and 3-point percentage (37.3%) and made the third-most 3-pointers per game (15.4) in the first half of the 2025-26 season.
- Defensively, the Hornets' strength on the defensive glass limits the number of extra possessions for opponents generated via offensive rebounds. Charlotte allowed the third-fewest offensive rebounds per game for opponents (10.5) and second-fewest total opponent rebounds (40.0) through 41 games.

The Hornets Are Buzzing

- In the last 16 games, the Hornets have posted an 8-8 record, a marked improvement in winning percentage (.500) from their 15-26 record (.365) on the season--over half of the team's win total from this season has come since the Dec. 14 overtime win at Cleveland.
- Charlotte's lineup of LaMelo Ball, Brandon Miller, Kon Knueppel, Miles Bridges and Moussa Diabate has the highest point differential (+28.2) of any five-man lineup combination in the NBA per Cleaning The Glass (min. 150 poss.). The Hornets are 5-1 when Ball-Miller-Knueppel-Bridges-Diabate comprise the starting lineup this season.
- In that 16-game span, Charlotte boasts the #2 offense (121.2 ORTG) and #16 defense (114.7 DRTG), giving them the #4 net rating in the NBA (6.5) since the rousing victory in Cleveland just over a month ago.
- In the last 10 games, Charlotte's offense ranks #1 in the NBA (123.4 ORTG) and leads the league in 3PM per game (16.9).
- The Hornets are leading the league in team 3-point percentage (41.3%) and 3-pointers made (17.7) per game and are second in 3-point attempts (42.9) per game in this 8-8 stretch. The team's offensive approach and shot distribution has excelled in recent weeks and the players on the floor have capitalized on their opportunities with highly efficient shotmaking.

Melo and Miller Have Caught Fire

- Charlotte's backcourt duo of LaMelo Ball and Brandon Miller has found its rhythm.
- Ball has shot 45.4% FG and 46.4% 3P (71-153) in this recent stretch, igniting Charlotte's offense.
- Ball's 71 3PM ranks atop the league and his 106 assists ranks 11th during that span. The veteran guard has delicately balanced scoring and playmaking while shooting at a highly efficient clip as of late.
- Miller has shot 48.1% from inside the arc and 37.7% from beyond the arc (40-106) in his last 14 competitions, adding 1.1 steals and 1.1 blocks per game. The third-year guard has improved on his season-wide scoring average (20.8 PPG) while producing as a ball-hawking perimeter defender and one of the league's best shot-blocking guards.
- On the season, Miller is one of two players averaging 2.5 3PM and 1 block per game (Derrick White).

Another Eastern Conference Rookie of the Month

- Kon Knueppel was named Eastern Conference Rookie of the Month for games played in December, his second-straight month earning the award.
- He is the seventh Hornet all-time to win the award multiple times (Larry Johnson, Alonzo Mourning, Emeka Okafor, Raymond Felton, LaMelo Ball, Brandon Miller).
- Knueppel averaged 20.8 points, 4.2 rebounds and 4.7 assists per game on 50.0/46.2/90.3 shooting splits in 12 games during the month of December. He led all rookies in points per game through the end of December and is the only rookie with more than 70 3PM this season (117 as of Dec. 31).
- At the end of December, Knueppel was one of seven qualified players averaging at least 15 points and five rebounds per game while shooting above 40 percent from distance, including Nikola Jokic, Kevin Durant, Jimmy Butler III, and others. He ranked third among the group in 3-point percentage and was the only player with 100 3PM through that point in the season.

Control the Controllables

- Opposing teams have shot 37.5% 3P and 80.4% FT against the Hornets this season, the third-highest and fourth-highest marks in the league, respectively. Charlotte's 48.0% FG for opponents is seventh-highest in the NBA.
- The Hornets allow a league-low 21.0 FTA per game for opponents to balance out their opponents' hot shooting at the line, also displaying the disciplined yet physical defense Charles Lee expects from his roster.
- Charlotte has dominated on the glass this season, ranking at or near the top of nearly every rebounding statistic. The Hornets allow the third-fewest offensive rebounds per game for opponents (10.5) and second-fewest total opponent rebounds (40.0) while ranking in the top-5 in offensive rebounding percentage (34.5) and second in total rebounding percentage (53.1) themselves.
- Taking away chances at extra points (free throws) and extra possessions (offensive rebounds) for the opponent--and creating them for themselves on the offensive end with high activity on the glass--stand out as reliable traits for this Charlotte team.

Hornets Hit All the Right Notes in a 55-point Win Over the Jazz

- Charlotte broke multiple records for margin of victory in a rousing 55-point win over Utah, a wire-to-wire win in which the Hornets led by as many as 57 points--their largest lead in any game this season.
- 55 points is the largest margin of victory in the NBA this season and Charlotte's largest margin of victory on the road in team history (fifth-largest in NBA history), breaking the franchise's previous road victory record by 12 points.
- It was the second-largest margin of victory in franchise history behind a 61-point home win over Memphis (140-79) in March of 2018.
- 150 points, 53 field goals made, 65 rebounds, 100% free throw shooting, 41 second chance points, 21 fast break points and 78 bench points were all season-highs for team totals in a single game. 24 made 3s tied a season-high and nine players scoring in double figures tied a franchise record set on opening night versus Brooklyn (Oct. 22).

Hornets Hold the Cavaliers Scoreless in Overtime

- Charlotte held Cleveland scoreless in overtime on Dec. 14, the 12th instance in the shot clock era (since 1954-55) in which a team was held scoreless in overtime.
- The Hornets holding the Cavaliers to zero points in overtime was just the fourth time a team had been held scoreless in an overtime period in the last 20 years and the first time since Chicago was held scoreless in overtime by Minnesota on Nov. 7, 2015.
- Brandon Miller's game-tying 3-pointer was just the eighth instance since 1996-97 in which the Hornets won the game after trailing with less than five seconds remaining in regulation and the first since Devonte' Graham made a go-ahead 3-pointer at New York on Nov. 16, 2019.
- Miller's 32-footer is Charlotte's second-farthest game-tying or go-ahead shot in the final five seconds (since 1996-97) behind Jeremy Lamb's 48-foot halfcourt buzzer-beater in Toronto on March 24, 2019.

Lockdown Defense in Toronto

- Charlotte held Toronto to 86 points on Dec. 5, a season-low for points allowed.
- The Hornets have held their opponent to 86 points or fewer just three times since the 2020-21 season.
- In 2019-20, the Hornets held their opponent under 86 points twice, including an 83-73 win over Chicago that represented season-lows in scoring for both teams.
- Charlotte has held its opponent to 86 points or fewer 21 times in the last 10 seasons. The most recent example prior to Dec. 5 was Nov. 8, 2024, a 103-83 win over Indiana.

Hot Out of the Gates

- The Hornets were the first team in NBA history to open a season with three-straight games of 120+ points, 15+ 3PM and 30+ assists in each game.

Scintillating Second Half in D.C.

- 88 points are the most the Hornets have scored in any half in team history (87 in 2H vs. IND, Jan. 26, 2022).
- The Hornets shot 67.4% from the field (29-43), 75% from distance (12-16) and 85.7% from the line (18-21) and outrebounded the Wizards 24-11 in the final 24 minutes.
- Charlotte posted consecutive 44-point quarters to close out a 26-point victory versus Washington, to which they trailed by 13 points in the first half.

CLEANING THE GLASS STATISTIC DEFINITIONS AND APPLICATIONS:

Effective FG%: A field goal percentage statistic that measures efficiency by giving extra weight to 3-point shots. The statistic adjusts traditional FG% to account for the fact that 3-point field goals count for three points, while all other field goals only count for two points. Can be used to demonstrate efficiency among players with a high concentration of either 2-point shots or 3-point shots.

Halfcourt/Transition points per play: A per-possession statistic that measures the number of points scored per 100 plays in either a halfcourt offensive setting or a transition offensive setting. A "play" is anything that results in a shot, turnover, or free throws. Can be used to highlight the differences in offensive efficiency on fast breaks or in the half court.

On/Off point differential: A statistic that measures the amount of points a team scores per 100 possessions subtracted by the amount of points a team allows per 100 possessions with a specific player on the court. Can be used to demonstrate how many points a team gains or adds when a specific player is in the game.

"Garbage Time": Cleaning The Glass statistics filter out statistics accumulated during the late stages of a blowout NBA game; commonly known as "garbage time." Cleaning The Glass defines "garbage time" in exact terms as follows: the game has to be in the 4th quarter, the score differential has to be greater than or equal to (>=) 25 for minutes 12-9, >= 20 for minutes 9-6, and >= 10 for the remainder of the quarter. Additionally, there have to be two or fewer starters on the floor combined between the two teams.

Importantly, the game can never go back to being non-garbage time, or this clock resets. For example, if it's a 30 point game to start the 4th quarter, but one team comes back and pulls the game within 8, that comeback is not counted as garbage time. If the leading team regains control and expands the lead back out, garbage time would start when the score went back above 10.

HORNETS HEAD COACH CHARLES LEE

Coaching Record in 2024-25: 19-63

Overall NBA Coaching Record: 34-89 (.276) (Second season)

- In his first season as Hornets Head Coach, Lee oversaw the development of multiple contributors and helped establish a team identity rooted in physicality, discipline and intentionality. Most notably, Hornets forward-center Moussa Diabate was converted from a Two-Way contract to a standard NBA deal in Feb. 2025, and has remained a crucial member of the rotation since Lee began occasionally deploying him as the Hornets starting center last season.
- Hired as the 12th head coach in Charlotte Hornets history on May 9, 2024, Charles Lee holds 10 years of NBA assistant coaching experience and enters his second season as Hornets Head Coach.
- Lee most recently served as the Boston Celtics' top assistant in their 2023-24 NBA championship run. Under Lee's guidance, the Celtics finished the year with the NBA's top record (64-18), offensive rating (123.2) and net rating (11.6). Boston's 64 wins represented the fourth-most in franchise history.
- Prior to his time in Boston, Lee served five seasons as an assistant for the Milwaukee Bucks, ascending to associate head coach and helping guide the team to the 2020-21 NBA championship. During this time, the Bucks averaged 54.2 wins despite two COVID-shortened regular seasons. Milwaukee won 60 games in 2018-19, tied for the third-most in a season in franchise history.
- He began his NBA career as an assistant with the Atlanta Hawks from 2014-18, helping engineer a defense that finished in the top six in defensive rating three straight years. In Lee's first year with the team, Atlanta won a franchise-record 60 games and reached the Eastern Conference Finals.
- Throughout Lee's 10 NBA seasons as an assistant, his teams accumulated a 510-291 (.637) regular-season record, reached the playoffs nine times, captured seven division titles, earned five Eastern Conference No. 1 seeds and won two NBA championships. In four of his last six seasons, his teams finished the regular season with the best record in the NBA.
- Lee got his start in coaching at his alma mater, Bucknell University, where he was an assistant for two seasons (2012-14).
- Lee played four seasons with the Bison, leading the team to two Patriot League titles and the only two NCAA Tournament victories in school history, including a win over No. 3 Kansas as a No. 14 seed in 2005. A 2017 inductee into the Bucknell Athletics Hall of Fame, Lee was the 2005-06 Patriot League Player of the Year, a three-time All-Patriot League selection and the first player in conference history to win back-to-back Patriot League Tournament MVP awards.
