Game Recap

Jaden McDaniels and the Minnesota Timberwolves flexed even more of their defensive muscle against the flagging Denver Nuggets, seizing a 2-1 lead in the first-round NBA playoff series with a dominant 113-96 victory on Thursday. McDaniels had 20 points and 10 rebounds, Ayo Dosunmu added 25 points and nine assists off the bench, and Donte DiVincenzo had 15 points and four steals as the surging Timberwolves built a 27-point lead in the third quarter and finished with a 68-34 advantage in points in the paint. Rudy Gobert followed his inspired Game 2 effort against Nikola Jokic by stifling the three-time MVP again on an ugly 7-for-26 shooting night, and the Timberwolves established a postseason franchise record by allowing the Nuggets just 11 points in the tone-setting first quarter. "The shooting really put us behind the 8-ball to start the game," Nuggets coach David Adelman said. "We only gave up 25 points in the first quarter. That's actually a very good number. We just had a hard time making shots tonight. Our physicality offensively has got to get better." Jokic finished with a too-little-too-late 27 points and 15 rebounds for the Nuggets, who were missing Aaron Gordon to a calf injury and all the energy he provides from his starting power forward spot. "He's the greatest offensive player I've guarded in my whole career," Gobert, the four-time NBA Defensive Player of the Year who had 10 points, 12 rebounds and three blocks, said of Jokic. "Just trying to enjoy the challenge." Jamal Murray had 16 points on just 5-for-17 shooting as the league's best 3-point shooting team during the regular season struggled again from deep. The Nuggets have hit 30% of their 3s in the series, going 33 for 109. But the Timberwolves did even more damage with the ball. "They're kind of pushing the pace, playing faster," Jokic said. "Don't let us set our defense, and then just driving the ball and trying to be aggressive." McDaniels, who flatly answered a question about Minnesota's offensive strategy after Game 2 by labeling all of Denver's players "bad defenders," proved to be more prescient than reckless with his assessment. Rather than irking the Nuggets, he had himself and his teammates fired up as the series shifted to their home court. The Wolves turned loose their primary wing players - McDaniels, DiVincenzo and Dosunmu - to repeatedly attack the basket as they raced around the Nuggets at every turn in the first half on the way to a 61-39 lead. "We're being decisive," Dosunmu said. "That's what it's all about." McDaniels delighted the crowd with a 3-pointer from the top of the key and a one-handed slam in traffic over Jokic and Spencer Jones down the stretch in one of his finest performances in the postseason for Minnesota. Several fans clutched signs honoring McDaniels and his blunt "bad defenders" quote, a cheeky tribute that made even the stone-faced sixth-year player smile afterward. "I thought it was a very emotionally sound game for him," Gobert said. "That's huge for him to just stay locked in, stay present, not getting frustrated."

Game Recap

A big early deficit in Denver didn't bother the Minnesota Timberwolves, who two years ago staged the biggest Game 7 comeback in NBA history, clawing out of a 20-point hole to beat the Nuggets and advance to the Western Conference finals. This time, they overcame a 19-point deficit, rallying past the Nuggets 119-114 on Monday night behind 30 points from Anthony Edwards and 24 from Julius Randle to tie their first-round playoff series at one game each. "Just coming together, staying poised within those moments," Edwards said. Jamal Murray scored 30 points for Denver, which had won 13 straight games since losing on March 18. The Nuggets jumped out to a 44-25 lead early in the second quarter only to see a potential laughter quickly turn into a head-scratcher. After outscoring the Wolves 39-25 in the first, the Nuggets watched Minnesota flip that exact score in the second period. "So, basically same quarters, first and second, just opposite teams," said Nikola Jokic, who had 24 points, 15 boards and eight assists for the Nuggets. After a slow start, Edwards looked much better than he did during his 22-point effort in Game 1, when his rust from a bum knee was apparent. This time, he drove to the basket more instead of settling for jumpers, fueling the comeback. "He was awesome. It was unbelievable," Timberwolves coach Chris Finch said. "Also in that (first) period when we were down, he was great on the bench. Great leadership, positive. He recognized he needed to get into attack mode and get downhill a little bit more. He did that." Denver blew a chance to take control against its Northwest Division rival. The Nuggets are 8-0 in their history when winning the first two games of a playoff series, and the Wolves are 0-8 when dropping Games 1 and 2. Edwards turned the ball over with 31 seconds left and Christian Braun got fouled at the other end after Jokic passed up a floater to tie it. Braun missed one of two free throws, leaving Denver trailing 115-114 with 19 seconds remaining. Randle then sank two free throws and Donte DiVincenzo added a breakaway dunk to cap the comeback. "I trust C.B. to make free throws," Denver coach David Adelman said. "It rimmed out. That happens in the NBA. You're going to have moments that you don't want to remember. That's a tough moment for C.B. after playing such a good game." Murray sank a 51-foot 3-pointer at the halftime buzzer to tie it at 64. Jokic came on strong after a quiet start, scoring 16 points in the third quarter when Denver took a 93-90 lead. But the Nuggets' All-Star duo shot a combined 2 for 12 in the fourth quarter as the Wolves evened a best-of-seven series that shifts to Minneapolis for Game 3 on Thursday night. "I feel like we had the game in hand," Murray said, "and then we just didn't make our shots." Jaden McDaniels, who added 14 points for the Wolves, said the key to Minnesota's bounce-back was going "after Jokic, Jamal, all the bad defenders. Tim Hardaway, Cam Johnson, Aaron Gordon, the whole team, just go at them. Yeah, they're all bad defenders." Before tipoff, Finch complained for a third straight day about the free-throw disparity in Game 1, when the Nuggets outscored Minnesota 30-14 from the stripe. He cracked that maybe his players need to "start flopping, too." Each team went to the line 30 times Monday night.

HEAD COACH CHRIS FINCH

OVERALL RECORD: 258-193

RECORD WITH MINNESOTA: 258-193

SEASONS AS HEAD COACH IN LEAGUE: 6th

SEASONS WITH MINNESOTA: 6th

Chris Finch was named Head Coach of the Minnesota Timberwolves on February 22, 2021, becoming the team’s 16th Head Coach. On April 11, 2022, the Timberwolves announced a multi-year contract extension for Finch along with his coaching staff.

His 258 total wins over the last five seasons ranks second in team history and his .572 winning percentage passes Flip Saunders’ franchise-best mark (.521). Following the Wolves’ 128-102 victory over the Utah Jazz on March 17, 2025, Finch notched his 200th career win, doing so in his 356th game, becoming the fastest coach in team history to 200 wins. Flip Saunders (the only previous Minnesota coach to win 200 games) reached the mark in 393 games coached. Finch’s 21 playoff victories since arriving in Minnesota are the most in franchise history.

Additionally, following the Timberwolves win over the Jazz on March 17, the Wolves won their 40th game of the 2024-25 season, the fourth straight season Finch has led the team to 40+ win season. Only Flip Saunders has led them to more consecutive 40+ win seasons as a head coach than Finch’s current run of four straight.

Led by Finch, the Timberwolves finished the 2024-25 campaign with a 49-33 record, marking the first time since the 2002-03 and 2003-04 seasons that the team posted back-to-back 49+ win seasons (56-26 in 2023-24). The Wolves 49-33 mark is the sixth best record in franchise history. The Wolves clinched a spot in the NBA Playoffs for the fourth consecutive season and the 13th time in franchise history. Minnesota’s four straight trips to the postseason mark the most consecutive playoff appearances for the franchise since making the playoffs eight consecutive seasons from 1996-97- 2003-04. The Timberwolves returned to the Western Conference Finals in 2025, becoming the first team since the 2018 and 2019 Golden State Warriors to play in back-to-back Western Conference Finals.

Since arriving in Minnesota, Finch has jumped into helping the Twin Cities community. He currently serves on the Board of Directors of Second Harvest Heartland where he assists the organization, playing a critical role in helping Second Harvest Heartland to fulfill its mission of ending hunger.

Finch, 56, has over 25 years of NBA and G League experience, serving as an assistant coach under Nick Nurse and the Toronto Raptors prior to joining Minnesota. Prior to that, he made coaching stops with the New Orleans Pelicans as associate head coach from 2017-20, the Denver Nuggets as an assistant coach from 2016-17 and the Houston Rockets as an assistant coach from 2011-16. Finch was named the head coach of the Rio Grande Valley Vipers, the Rocket’s G League affiliate in 2009. He led the Vipers to back-to-back G League Finals appearances, compiling a 67-33 (.670) record in his two seasons.

After leading Rio Grande Valley to the 2010 G League Championship, Finch received the Dennis Johnson Trophy as the league’s best head coach.

The Reading, Pennsylvania native played overseas in the British Basketball League (BBL) for the Sheffield Sharks from 1993-97 before coaching the same team from 1997-2003. Finch was named the BBL Coach of the Year in 1998-99. He continued to coach overseas for 12 years including in Germany and Belgium.

Finch also served as the head coach of Great Britain’s National Team from 2006-13, where he led the national team in the 2012 Summer Olympics in London. He also led them to a European Championship berth in 2009 and 2011, the team’s first appearances since 1981.

A Franklin & Marshall College graduate in 1992, Finch was as a two-time All-American and was inducted into the F&M Sports Hall of Fame in 2002. He started the final 115 games of his collegiate career and compiled a 102-13 record (.887), which stood as the most career wins as a starter in NCAA Division III history.
