The Warriors, currently in 10th place in the Western Conference (2.5 games behind No. 9 Portland), have secured a SoFi Play-In Tournament spot. This is the fourth time and the third consecutive year that Golden State will participate in the play-in tournament (2021, 2024, 2025). Last season, the Warriors (48-34 regular season record) defeated the Grizzlies, 121-116, in the No. 7 vs. No. 8 Play-In Tournament game on April 15, 2025, to advance to the NBA Playoffs. The Warriors became the seventh No. 7 seed to advance to the conference semifinals, upsetting the No. 2 Houston Rockets in the first round, 4-3.

Tonight vs. Cleveland is the second game in a five-game homestand for the Warriors (0-1). Including tonight, there are six games remaining in the 2025-26 regular season for the Warriors, four at home and two on the road, 4/10 at Sacramento and 4/12 at LA Clippers to close the season. This is the Warriors' final game against an Eastern Conference team this season (13-16 overall, 8-6 home).

Tonight's game concludes the regular season series between the Warriors and Cavaliers. The Warriors lead the series, 1-0, with a 99-94 win on December 6. The Cavaliers have won four of the last five meetings against the Warriors and the last two at Chase Center.

Tonight's game vs. Cleveland concludes the Warriors' penultimate set of back-to-backs. This is the fourth set of home-home back-to-backs for the Warriors this season (swept one and split two). The Warriors are 7-7 in the second game of back-to-backs.

Draymond Green (6,432 career rebounds) is eight rebounds shy of tying Larry Smith (6,440) for third on the Warriors franchise all-time rebounds list.

Stephen Curry has missed the last 26 games due to right patellofemoral pain syndrome. Curry last played on January 30 vs. Detroit. The Warriors are 13-24 this season without Curry in the lineup and 9-17 in this recent stretch.

After Jimmy Butler III suffered a season-ending injury (right ACL tear) on January 19 vs. Miami, the Warriors have an 11-21 record (4-10 home, 7-11 road). The Warriors have a 46-22 all-time regular season record with Butler III in the lineup. Golden State is 40-17 all-time in the regular season when Stephen Curry, Draymond Green and Butler III play.

According to NBA.com, the Warriors are ranked second in 3-point makes (15.9) and first in 3-point attempts per game (44.6) and second for percentage of points from 3-pointers (41.5). Ranked fourth in assists (29.0), the Warriors lead the NBA in passes per game (340.5). Additionally, the Warriors are ranked second in steals per game (9.8 spg), sixth in forcing turnovers (16.0 tpg), eighth in free throw percentage (80.1 FT%).

BACK-TO-BACKS

Tonight's game vs. Cleveland concludes the Warriors' penultimate set of back-to-backs. This is the fourth set of home-home back-to-backs for the Warriors this season (swept one and split two). The Warriors are 7-7 in the second game of back-to-backs.

This season, Golden State has 16 sets of back-to-back games after having 14 last season. The Warriors are 6-9 in the first game of back-to-backs and 7-7 in the second game of back-to-backs this season. Golden State has swept two sets of back-to-backs, split nine and have been swept three times in 2025-26. Of the 16 sets of back-to-backs, four are of the home-home variety, eight are on the road, three home-road sets and one road-home set. One of the back-to-back sets was created due to the January 24th game at Minnesota getting postponed. In 2024-25, the Warriors swept four sets of back-to-backs, split nine and were swept once., 9-5 in the first game and 8-6 in the second game.

Because the January 24th game at Minnesota was postponed and rescheduled to January 25, it created the Warriors' 10th set of back-to-backs this season and they are now scheduled for 16 sets this season, tied for the second-most with Charlotte, Denver, Philadelphia, Phoenix and Washington (Miami is first with 17 back-to-backs in 2025-26). The 16 sets would be the most for the Warriors since 2023-24 when they had 17. According to the Elias Sports Bureau, since 2000, the consecutive games at Minnesota on January 25 and 26 was the eighth instance of Golden State playing consecutive regular season games on consecutive days against the same opponent - the previous time was on October 29-30, 2024 vs. New Orleans. The last time it happened on the road was also against the Pelicans, on May 3-4, 2021 at New Orleans.

The March 20 & 21st games at Detroit and Atlanta, respectively, was the third of three sets of back-to-backs the Warriors played in a span of 13 days (3/9 & 3/10, 3/15 & 3/16 and 3/20 & 3/21). According to the Elias Sports Bureau, the previous instance the Warriors had three back-to-back sets in 13 days was during the 2021-22 season (3/22 & 3/23, 3/27 & 3/28 and 4/2 & 4/3).

The last 26 games (February 3-April 1) Curry has missed are due to a right patellofemoral pain syndrome (Warriors are 9-17 in those games). On January 30 vs. Detroit, Curry exited the game with 4:08 left in the third quarter and did not return.

Curry missed five consecutive games (November 29 to December 7) due to a left quadriceps contusion suffered on November 26, 2025 vs. Houston (Warriors 3-2 in those games). He exited the game with 35.2 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter. An MRI confirmed a quadriceps contusion and muscle strain.

On March 15 at New York, for the eighth time (all this season), the Warriors played without Curry (right patellofemoral inflammation), Draymond Green (left low back injury management) and Jimmy Butler III (right ACL surgery), falling to 2-6 in those games. The Warriors' win at Cleveland (12/6) marked the first time Golden State won a game in which Curry, Green and Butler III did not play in. The eight games the trio did not play in: 11/5 at Sacramento, 11/19 at Miami, 12/6 at Cleveland, 1/2 vs. Oklahoma City, 1/26 at Minnesota, 2/22 vs. Denver, 3/13 vs. Minnesota, 3/15 at New York.

WHO'S STARTING?

Due to numerous injuries, the Warriors have deployed 39 different starting lineups this season (38 different starting lineups were used last season). According to the Elias Sports Bureau, it's the most unique starting lineups used by the Warriors in a single season a franchise record 49 was used in 2009-10. Starters were first officially tracked in 1970-71. Brandin Podziemski is the only Warrior to have played in every game this season.

From February 22 at Denver to March 18 at Boston, the Warriors used a unique starting lineup in 13 consecutive games, the second-longest such streak by any team this season (Memphis, 16). It was also the second-longest such streak in Warriors franchise history since 1970-71 when starters were first officially tracked, trailing a 14-game streak from Feb. 18-March 19, 2009, according to the Elias Sports Bureau.

GUI'S CAREER NIGHT

On March 25 vs. Brooklyn, Gui Santos scored a career-high 31 points, making a career-high 11 field goals in the Warriors' 109-106 win over the Nets at Chase Center. Santos tallied 21 points in the second half, including 15 in the third quarter, career highs for most points in a half and quarter.

PAYTON II'S FGM STREAK

Gary Payton II made 16 consecutive field goal attempts, from 3/18 at Boston to 3/25 vs. Brooklyn. The streak ended on 3/27 vs. Washington when he missed his first attempt of the night. It is the second longest streak this season, trailing only Rudy Gobert's streak of 19 consecutive field goal makes (1/4-1/10). Payton II's streak is the second-longest for the Warriors franchise since 1997-98 (when play-by-play was first officially recorded) behind Trayce Jackson-Davis' 20 consecutive field goals made in 2023-24, according to the Elias Sports Bureau.

The last clutch game for the Warriors was on March 27 vs. Washington (131-126). In clutch games this season, Golden State is 16-18 overall (7-6 home, 9-12 road).

In 2024-25, Golden State was 25-20 in clutch games during the regular season, 1-0 in the play-in tournament and 3-1 in the playoffs.

Golden State Warriors forward Jimmy Butler III will miss the remainder of the 2025-26 season with a torn right anterior cruciate ligament (ACL), the team announced on January 20. Butler III suffered the injury with 7:41 remaining in the third quarter of the January 19th game vs. the Miami Heat, a 135-112 win. He will undergo surgery at a to-be-determined date.

Butler III appeared in 38 games (all starts) this season, averaging 20.0 points, 5.6 rebounds, 4.9 assists and 1.5 steals in 31.1 minutes per game.
