2025-26 GAME NOTES

HOT TAKES:

- This season marks as the 38th in team history, and the 20th anniversary of the franchise's first championship in 2006.
- Micky Arison was inducted into the 2025 Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame, becoming the 12th person with HEAT ties to be inducted, joining Billy Cunningham (1986), Jack Ramsay (1992), Bob McAdoo (2000), Pat Riley (2008), Gary Payton (2013), Alonzo Mourning (2014), Shaquille O'Neal (2016), Ray Allen (2018), Chris Bosh (2021), Tim Hardaway (2022) and Dwyane Wade (2023).
- Miami won 13 games before entering December, tying for the most wins before December in team history (2021-22, 2019-20 & 2013-14).
- Miami is 13-4 on the second night of a back-to-back this season, the third-best record in the NBA.
- The HEAT are a perfect 14-0 this season when outrebounding their opponent by double-figures, with nine of those games on the road.
- Miami is currently averaging 120.6 points per game this season, the second-highest in the NBA.
- The HEAT will compete in the Play-In Tournament as either the ninth or 10th seed.
- Miami has had their entire roster available just eight times this season (when not including Rozier or G League Assignments).

FRANCHISE BEST: The HEAT set a new franchise record for points during a single season on March 30 vs. Philadelphia and set a new team record for field goals made during a single season on April 4 vs. Washington. Additionally, Miami is now just 16 made three-point field goals shy from their all-time single season record of 1,124 which was set last season. Below are the most points scored and field goals made during a single regular season in franchise history.

HEAT SINGLE-SEASON PTS	SEASON	HEAT SINGLE-SEASON FGM	SEASON

WILT. BAM. KOBE.: Bam Adebayo scored a franchise-record 83 points on March 10 vs. Washington, marking the second-most points in NBA history. He connected on 36 free throws, the most all-time, surpassing the previous record of 28 set by Wilt Chamberlain (3/2/62) and Adrian Dantley (1/4/84). His 31 first quarter points were the most by any HEAT player for a quarter in team history and his 43 first half points were also the most for any half in HEAT history. Additionally, he made a career-high 20 field goals, tying the second-most in team history and connected on a career-high seven three-point field goals. Below are the most points scored during a single game in NBA history.

NBA ALL-TIME SINGLE GAME PTS	PLAYER	DATE

30-20: Bam Adebayo posted a 32-point, 21-rebound double-double on March 21 at Houston. He scored 23 points and grabbed a career-tying 21 rebounds through three quarters, becoming just the second player in team history to post a 20-20 game through three quarters (since play-by-plays were tracked in 1997-98), joining only Hassan Whiteside on February 4, 2017. Additionally, it marked just the ninth 30-20 game in franchise history.

SWIPES: Bam Adebayo recorded his 80th steal of the season on April 4, marking his fifth-straight year with at least 80 steals, becoming just the fourth player in franchise history to achieve the feat in at least five consecutive seasons, joining only Dwyane Wade (10 straight from 2003-13), Grant Long (six straight from 1988-94) and Glen Rice (five straight from 1990-1995).

DOUBLE-DOUBLE CLUB: Bam Adebayo has recorded 34 double-doubles this season and paired with Kel'el Ware's 24 double-doubles, they have become the first pair of HEAT teammates to each post at least 20 double-doubles in the same season since LeBron James (31) and Chris Bosh (28) in 2010-11.

40-POINT QUARTERS: Miami scored 40 points in the third quarter at Toronto on April 9, the 23rd 40+ point quarter this season, the most during a single season in franchise history. Below are the most 40+ point quarters in a single season.

HEAT SINGLE-SEASON 40+ PT QTRS	SEASON
23	2025-26

COACH SPO: Erik Spoelstra has recorded 939 career wins (829 regular season & 110 postseason) with the HEAT, previously passing Red Auerbach (885) last season for the third-most by a head coach with a single franchise in NBA history. Next on the list is Jerry Sloan (Jazz) with 1,223 wins followed by Gregg Popovich (Spurs) with 1,560.

30-POINT WINS: Miami recorded three 30+ point wins in February, the most for any month in franchise history, surpassing their previous record of two in a single month which was set six different times (March 2024, January 2012, March 2011, January 2010, March 1996 & February 1994). Additionally, the HEAT has recorded four 30+ point wins so far this calendar year, already the second-highest yearly total in team history and just one short from tying the franchise record of five set in 2012.

SCORING IN BUNCHES: Miami has scored at least 130 points 18 times this season, the most 130+ point games during a single season in team history, surpassing the previous record of four times, set twice, first in 2008-09 and again in 2019-20. Their 11 games of 140+ points this season is also a franchise record for a single season, surpassing their previous best of two (2023-24), as Miami had recorded eight total 140-point games in their history entering this season. Additionally, the HEAT are now a perfect 19-0 all-time when scoring at least 140 points.

MOST POINTS: Miami has recorded six of their top eight highest scoring games this season after posting 152 points vs. Washington on April 4, 150 points vs. Washington on March 10, 147 points twice (at Utah on January 24 & vs. Denver on December 29), 146 points at Memphis on October 24 and 144 points vs. Charlotte on October 28. Miami also scored a franchise-record 86 points in the first half at Memphis, outscoring the Grizzlies by 39 points (86-47) in the half, the biggest halftime margin in team history. The HEAT's 114 points in the same game through three quarters was also a franchise record. Additionally, Miami scored a second half franchise-record 84 points in the December 29th game vs. Denver. Below are the most points scored during a single game in team history.

FRANCHISE MARKS: Miami dished out a team-record 44 assists on February 1 vs. Chicago, surpassing the previous record of 42 set on December 4, 2024 vs. the Los Angeles Lakers. Additionally, they outscored the Bulls by +43 (134-91) in the game, tying for the third-largest margin of victory in franchise history with their 43-point, 126-83, win against the Clippers on December 29, 1994.

GETTING OFFENSIVE: Miami grabbed 19 first half offensive rebounds at Utah on January 24, tying for the most during any half in franchise history. The HEAT previously has done so three times prior, in the first half vs. Sacramento on December 26, 1993, in the first half vs. Golden State on April 4, 1990 and in the second half vs. Denver on December 9, 1988.

SINGLE GAME TREYS: The HEAT connected on 24 three-point field goals vs. the Clippers on December 1 and again vs. Boston on April 1, both tying for the most during a single-game in team history. Miami also made 24 treys two previous times prior to this season, vs. the Lakers on December 4, 2024 and at Oklahoma City on December 14, 2022. Additionally, all five starters connected on multiple three-point field goals in both games this season on December 1 and April 1, and also on April 10 at Washington, marking the third, fourth and fifth time in team history each starter made multiple from downtown, with the previous two times vs. Toronto on November 29, 2024 and at Atlanta on January 20, 2014.

10-10-5-5: Kel'el Ware recorded 16 points, 11 rebounds, a career-high seven blocks and five steals vs. Brooklyn on March 5, becoming the first player in HEAT franchise history to record at least 10-10-5-5 in each of those categories. Additionally, he became the first player in NBA history to accomplish the feat off the bench (since steals and blocks were recorded during the 1973-74 season).

PERFECT: Kasparas Jakucionis shot a perfect 6-of-6 from three-point range at Washington on February 8. It marks as the most made from downtown without a miss by a HEAT rookie in franchise history, surpassing the previous record of four, which was set three times. Additionally, he connected on his first three three-point field goals in the next game on February 9 vs. Utah, becoming just the third different HEAT player to make at least nine-straight treys (since play-by-plays were recorded in 1997-98), joining only Goran Dragic (9-straight 2/4/17 – 2/6/17) and Chris Bosh (9-straight 12/28/15 – 12/29/15).

50 PERCENT: The HEAT won a franchise-record 33-straight games when shooting at least 50 percent from three-point range dating back to 2019 from November 7, 2019 through December 1 of this season, surpassing their previous record of 30 consecutive set from January 13, 2010 through March 6, 2012. Below are Miami's longest winning streaks when shooting at least 50 percent from downtown.

FIRST QUARTER: Miami scored 53 points in the first quarter vs. Charlotte on November 7, the most for any quarter in franchise history, and just two points short from tying for the most first quarter points in NBA history. The HEAT also scored at least 30 points in the first quarter in six-straight games from October 28 through November 7, the longest such streak in team history. Below are the longest 30-plus first quarter streaks.

5	4/13/21 – 4/19/21

115+: The HEAT scored at least 115 points in each of the first four games this season, marking the longest such streak to open a season in franchise history, surpassing the previous record of two to open the 2019-20 campaign. Additionally, dating back to last season, Miami did so in a franchise-tying six-straight games overall. They previously accomplished the feat in six consecutive from February 20, 2020 – February 29, 2020.

17+: Tyler Herro scored at least 17 points in each of the first 12 games he appeared in this season, including at least 20 points in 10 of those contests. Dating back to last season, Herro scored at least 17 points in 22-straight games, the second-longest such streak of his career (27 in 2024-25). He also became just the third player in franchise history to record a 17-point streak of at least 22 consecutive games, joining only LeBron James (five times) and Dwyane Wade (three times).

12 BOARDS & 3 BLOCKS: Bam Adebayo (17 rebounds & three blocks) and Kel'el Ware (12 rebounds & four blocks) each recorded at least 12 rebounds and three blocks at Brooklyn on December 18. According to the Associated Press, they have become just the third set of HEAT teammates to accomplish the feat in the same game in franchise history. They join Alonzo Mourning (14 rebounds & four blocks) and PJ Brown (12 rebounds & three blocks) on March 3, 1998 vs. Seattle and Rony Seikaly (21 rebounds & three blocks) and Terry Davis (13 rebounds & three blocks) on November 14, 1990 vs. Dallas.

HAPPY NEW YEAR: Miami improved to 8-3 in New Year's Day games after defeating Detroit, 118-112, on January 1. The HEAT's 8-3 (.727) record on the holiday is the best in NBA history with a minimum of 10 games played. Below are the best overall New Year's Day records in NBA history (minimum 10 games played).

NEW YEAR'S DAY RECORDS	TEAMS
.727 (8-3)	Miami
.720 (18-7)	Philadelphia
.714 (10-4)	Denver
.679 (19-9)	New York

FIRST EVER: Kel'el Ware recorded a career-high 28 points and grabbed a game-high 19 rebounds while connecting on a team-high five three-point field goals on December 21 at New York. He has become the first ever player in HEAT history to record at least each of those totals in a game and became just the eighth player in NBA history to do so.

FIRST ROUNDERS: Miami had six of their own first round draft picks on their opening night roster, including Bam Adebayo, Tyler Herro, Kasparas Jakučionis, Jaime Jaquez Jr., Nikola Jović and Kel'el Ware. That ties as the most for any HEAT opening night roster in team history with their 1992 squad which featured Willie Burton, Kevin Edwards, Harold Miner, Glen Rice, Rony Seikaly and Steve Smith.

FOREIGN BORN: Miami's opening night roster included six foreign born players, including Simone Fontecchio (Italy), Vladislav Goldin (Russia), Kasparas Jakučionis (Lithuania), Nikola Jović (Serbia), Pelle Larsson (Sweden) and Andrew Wiggins (Canada). That marks the most for any HEAT opening night roster in team history, surpassing the previous high of four which happened three different times (2020, 2010 and 2009).

SELLING OUT: Miami has now sold out 682-straight overall games dating back to 2010, which includes the regular season, playoffs and three play-in games, marking the longest active streak in the league and the third-longest sellout streak in NBA history. Additionally, 399 of those 682 overall sellouts have been at over capacity, where fans have purchased Standing Room Only tickets in the Upper 400 Level. Below are the longest home sellout streaks in NBA history.

LONGEST NBA SELLOUTS	TEAM	DATES

ERIK SPOELSTRA (Portland)Regular Season Coaching Record: 829-611, currently in 18th seasonPostseason Coaching Record: 110-83, 14 postseason appearances

Erik Spoelstra is currently in his 18th season as head coach of the HEAT and his 31st as a member of the organization and is currently the longest active tenured head coach in the NBA with a single team after he was elevated to his current position on April 28, 2008. Spoelstra has totaled 14 postseason appearances, nine division titles, six conference championships and guided the franchise to a pair of NBA titles while also capturing an NBA Championship in 2006 as an assistant coach. Recognized as one of the game's best coaches, Spoelstra was selected as one of the NBA's 15 Greatest Coaches in NBA History and was named head coach of USA Basketball Men's National Team. Additionally, Spoelstra has earned Coach of the Month honors a franchise-record 10 times.

In his previous 17 seasons at the helm, Spoelstra has made his mark on the HEAT record book as the winningest coach in franchise history. Entering this season, he holds team records in wins, winning percentage and games coached. His 14 postseason appearances in his previous 17 seasons tie the second-most over that span in the NBA as Spoelstra has never missed the playoffs in consecutive seasons since becoming head coach as he also holds HEAT postseason records in wins, series won and games coached.

When Spoelstra first took over the head coaching duties in 2008, he was given the task of improving a young team that had been ravaged by injuries the previous season and had won just 15 games. He then recorded 43 wins in his first season, the most by a first year HEAT coach in team history, while on his way to a postseason berth. Miami became just the second team in NBA history to make the playoffs after winning 15-or-fewer games the previous season. The only other team to do so was the 1968-69 San Diego Rockets, in which HEAT President Pat Riley was a member of.

From 2010-14, Spoelstra took one of the most scrutinized teams and guided them to consecutive NBA Championships, four-straight Conference Championships and four consecutive NBA Finals appearances, becoming just the third franchise in NBA history to make four consecutive NBA Finals appearances, joining the Celtics and Lakers. It also made them just one of 10 franchises in the four major North American sports leagues to make four consecutive trips to the league championship. Individually, Spoelstra became just the fourth head coach in NBA history to lead his team to four-straight Finals appearances joining Red Auerbach, K.C. Jones and Pat Riley. Spoelstra also became one of just 13 head coaches in NBA history to have won multiple championships and only the eighth to win a championship in consecutive seasons.

The 2012 championship culminated a compressed 2011-12 season in which Miami went 46-20 and captured its second consecutive Southeast Division title. The regular season was highlighted by a nine-game win streak (Feb. 10-Mar. 1) with each victory a double-digit win. During that streak the HEAT became the first team to win road games on three consecutive nights (Feb. 12-14) since December of 1979 and the first to win each of those contests by double-digits since the 1970-71 season.

Before taking over as the sixth head coach in HEAT history, Spoelstra had served Miami in a number of roles in his first 13 years. He was originally hired as video coordinator and over the years was promoted to assistant coach/video coordinator, assistant coach/advance scout and assistant coach/director of scouting, before ascending to head coach. He made a name for himself around the league with his game preparation and superb attention to detail. In his seven seasons as the HEAT's assistant coach/director of scouting, he had the primary role of developing game plans for upcoming opponents. To that end, he coordinated the video staff and advance scouts while overseeing the development of scouting reports and videos.

In 1992, he graduated from the University of Portland with a degree in communications. While attending Portland, Spoelstra was the starting point guard for four years and was named the West Coast Conference Freshman of the Year in 1989. Upon graduating he spent two years as a player/coach for Tus Herten, a team in the professional sports league of Germany.

He has returned to his native Philippines to host clinics and promote education, health and wellness to thousands of at-risk youth through grassroots programs and events. The nine-day program in Manila in the summer of 2011 was the largest NBA FIT event ever hosted in Southeast Asia under the NBA Cares umbrella. In the summer of 2012, Coach Spoelstra expanded his reach into other Southeast Asia nations by conducting coaches clinics and other FIT activities in Singapore.

Raised in Portland, OR, Spoelstra, who was inducted into the Jesuit High School Athletic Hall of Fame in September 2009, is the first Asian/Filipino-American head coach in any of the major North American sports leagues. Spoelstra is the son of Jon Spoelstra, a long-time NBA executive who has guided the Portland Trail Blazers, Denver Nuggets, Buffalo Braves and New Jersey Nets. His grandfather, Watson, was a Detroit Tigers beat writer for many years. In his free time, Spoelstra enjoys spending time with his sons Santiago and Dante and daughter, Ruby, and their dog Rosie.
